Hard Coal Miners May Strike at Midnight

UNION CERTAIN TO TURN DOWN PINCHOT TERMS

Leave Way Open for New Discussion.

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 30.—[Special.]—Representation of work of 158,000 Pennsylvania anthracite miners at midnight tomorrow is practically certain. All indications today were that both miners and operators would notify Pinchot tomorrow that his peace proposal is not acceptable in its present form.

Rejection of the Pinchot plan to bring peace to the hard coal industry does not mean that the disputants will turn down every suggestion made by the governor. Qualified acceptance on some points is indicated and the plan stands in place as a basis for further negotiations. However, there is not sufficient time to call off the strike. A stoppage of a week or so appears likely.

Will Ask for "Explanation."

Representatives of the operators and miners will appear before Gov. Pinchot tomorrow morning. The governor will ask the operators to explain their refusal to accept the Pinchot plan. It is expected that both sides will ask the governor to define a reasonable part of his plan and to reveal the implications which both sides see in it.

Maintenance men will continue to work if a strike occurs, because an agreement was reached today which gives these men a wage increase of between $1.10 and $1.15 a day and in addition whatever increase may be obtained as a result of present negotiations. The maintenance men work the eight hour basic day, but they will have to continue working their usual nine, ten or twelve hours. They receive a day pay for eight hours work.

Objections of the Operators.

The operators' principal objections to the Pinchot plan are the wage increase, the failure to make any provision to keep the mines running if an agreement is not reached before the expiration of the present contract, and the allegation that "the whole body of wage rates in the anthracite field is antiquated, haphazard, and honeycombed with inequalities, and needs revision."

MINERS SURE TO REFUSE

Harrisburg, Pa., Aug. 30.—[By the Associated Press.]—Gov. Pinchot's proposals for settlement of the anthracite controversy and avoidance of a mine shutdown Saturday won their way sufficiently far into the miners' union regard today to insure continued discussion after formal answer is filed with him tomorrow. The union view was, essentially, complete tonight, though awaiting formality of a ratification by the union scale committee tomorrow.

The Governor's Peace Proposal.

The governor's peace proposal was discussed thoroughly today. Officers were instructed to prepare the answer in the light of opinion developed. Primarily, the response will inform Pinchot that his proposals cannot be arbitrarily rejected, and will leave a way open for keeping the mines in operation while further negotiation continues. There will, however, be but twelve hours to elapse between the time the conference is staged and the time set in the union rules for calling out the men.

Dislike Wage Proposal.

It will be told that the mine workers dislike the proposal for a flat 10 per cent increase in wages. The answer will point out that such a flat increase for all anthracite employees would mean, where wage rates range up to $1.50 a day, that the average contract miner would get 50 cents more a day, while the balance work on contract, getting a rate of $1.50 for the coal they produce. The union will suggest that the governor's 10 per cent offer be applied to contract rates per ton for mining and that the day men be given the amount of increase in cents per ton that the average contract miner would be enabled to earn by a 10 per cent increase in the rates. Contract miners at present earn from $7 per day upward.

The Union Proposal.

The union proposal would consequently be for an advance of 70 cents per day but 42 cents additional. Further, the union answer renews the original demand for the "check-off" system, which have been early this year.

TROOPS CALLED AS 6,000 ROUT KLAN MEETING

Tear Gas and Clubs Fail to Halt Riot.

BULLETIN.

Tulsa, Okla., Aug. 30.—In open defiance of the state military authorities sent here under martial law to suppress mob violence, seven masked men tonight abducted W. J. Mathews, a mechanic. He was carried out into the country, where he escaped while his captors were preparing to administer a lashing.

New York, Aug. 30.—[Special.]—In the wildest disorder incident to Ku Klux Klan activities yet known in the east, a mob of 6,000 persons in Perth Amboy, N. J., tonight overcame the combined police and fire departments of the town and broke up a meeting of 150 members of the "invisible empire."

For a time the mob held the city helpless in its grip, while heavy reinforcements of the state constabulary were being rushed from the nearest stations in response to an emergency call to Trenton, capital of the state.

During that period the attacking forces dealt severely with the hooded knights, forcing them to flee in confusion from Odd Fellows hall where they had gathered, driving them on the run through the streets, and kicking, stoning, and beating them.

Several Severely Beaten.

The great majority of the klanmen stood not on the order of their robes. Some, cornered or unwilling to join their fellows in feeling for safety, showed fight. Many such had their white shrouds and much of the rest of their clothing ripped from them, and some were rescued by policemen only after they had been beaten severely.

The storming forces likewise suffered some casualties, particularly in their earlier encounter with the police, but they greatly outnumbered the members of the secret order and came off victorious.

The Police Fought with Clubs until they were outnumbered and overwhelmed. Then they resorted to tear gas bombs, which they tossed into the midst of the mass of klan enemies.

The mob met both attacks with stones and the whole city fire department was summoned to back up the police.

Water turned On, but Hose Is Cut.

The firemen, 150 strong, turned every stream they could into the attacking forces, but the bolder members of the mob, advancing under a barrage of stones from their comrades, slashed every hose line with axes and knives and the last line of defense for the klanmen gave way.

The wide dispersal of the fleeing klanmen served to separate the elements of the mob and thus a pitched battle was averted, at least for the time being. But some klanmen as they ran shouted threats to come back 10,000 strong. Perth Amboy men, determined that the klan shall not rule in their city, hurried back defiant threats to meet the invaders "20,000 strong."

Chief of Police Tenneson said he recognized some spokesmen in the crowd as members of local Jewish organizations and others as active in the Knights of Columbus. There ensued a period of argument in which the crowd tried to gain entrance into the hall, during which it grew from 2,000 to 6,000, as some secret call for reinforcements had been sent over the city.

Cut Firemen's Hose.

The attackers broke through axes and butcher knives appeared from somewhere; firemen who tried to guard their streams were sent sprawling headlong, and in a twinkling there was not a piece of hose near a hydrant that would hold water.

At 2 o'clock this (Friday) morning it was reported that every doctor in Perth Amboy was busy dressing casualties, although no one had been taken to a hospital. At police headquarters three men were reported to be in serious condition. By then news of the battle had spread to nearby towns, and from a dozen Jersey communities hundreds were flocking into the city, hundreds coming by automobiles. It was rumored that the influx represented adherents of both sides.

Fourteen state troopers were on hand. Chief Tenneson was keeping all his men on duty and it was expected that further state forces would be summoned.

SMOKE SCREEN RUM CAR CAUGHT BY CAPITAL COPS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 30.—[Special.]—A rum running automobile, equipped with a highly efficient apparatus for throwing out a smoke screen to blind pursuers, was captured by two motorcycle policemen today after a thrilling chase through Washington streets.

Racing at a speed of 75 miles an hour through the nauseating black smoke thrown out by the automobile, the motor policemen won the chase when the tank used in making the screen became exhausted. As they drew up on the fleeing rum car, the occupants leaped out and tried to run to cover, but the police captured a man who gave his name as Bernard Ransome. They expect to make other arrests.

This is the first liquor car equipped with smoke screen apparatus that the Washington police have been able to capture, although several have been chased recently. Washington authorities expect to urge legislation fixing heavy penalties for using smoke screens.

Germans Ease Up Resistance to Ruhr; French to Get Coal

BY GEORGE SELDES.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

(Copyright: 1923: By The Chicago Tribune.)

BERLIN, Aug. 30.—A member of Chancellor Stresemann's cabinet made the following statement to the press tonight:

"It is true that Germany must give up the passive resistance. This step will be taken within a few days, probably at the end of the week or the beginning of next week. We are asking the press to prepare the German people for an announcement to that effect."

Stands for Peace.

The Socialist party press bureau in a statement to be published tomorrow says the government is trying to come to an understanding with France, and attacks the nationalists for calling the peace movement a capitulation.

"The government realizes," says the Socialist bureau, "that it is impossible to reestablish order so long as the Ruhr conflict continues. The government is trying to come to an understanding with France by all means, but not at any price. The government is acting in agreement with the Ruhr population, which desires the present situation to end."

Whoever attacks the government practically accuses the Ruhr population of treason. The government must attack those who call its efforts to come to an understanding with France capitulation. We cannot get on without a dictatorship now. The time has come for Chancellor Stresemann to put through a dictatorship mercilessly. A dictatorship alone can save us."

Returning to Normalcy.

While Herr Stresemann is holding cabinet meetings to discuss the giving up of passive resistance and whether the cabinet contemplates any lifting of the ban on the French railroads in the Rhineland and lifting the ban on paying the coal tax. By the first measure Germans will be permitted to use French government trains for freight and passenger transportation. This hitherto has been officially prohibited. Germans disobeying this order were subject to arrest by the government and to shooting and beatings by German nationalists and patriots.

More important is the proposal to resume paying the coal tax, which means that the Germans who now are striking or idling at the mines will go to work and increase the coal production, producing enough for Germany and France, thus saving German industry from purchasing from England.

Herr Stresemann's cabinet meeting today discussed what dictatorial measures could prevent the German industrialists from sabotaging the new tax laws through their playing the money markets at Cologne, where the exchange is not controlled because it is in the British zone, and at Amsterdam.

Strike Blow at Extremists.

A severe blow struck at the extremists, who wish to prolong the resistance in the Ruhr at all costs, was a decision taken at a meeting of important Rhineland industrialists favoring a resumption of work. It is reported that the Stinnes group declared emphatically that German industry would collapse completely within three weeks, when the coal would be exhausted, unless the passive resistance was given up.

Numerous communist leaders have been arrested. The gravest importance is attached to this action, indicating the government's fear that the Reds will start trouble before the Whites, especially the Bavarian reactionaries, move for a dictatorship.

The further junking of paper marks, which reached 12,000,000 to a dollar tonight, has speeded the finance ministry's plans for producing a new money system. Among those proposed is using gold loan certificates to replace paper marks. It is proposed that gold certificates be issued for the amount of gold subscribed, but in a negotiable form.

Letter Has Soothing Effect.

The mayor's letter had a calming effect on some of the radical workers who wanted to bolt the meeting and strike immediately. After it was read the meeting quieted down and members of the committee who represented the unions at the conference with the company spoke along the same lines as Murphy. John W. Goetz, business representative of the miners, urged the men not to take "snap judgment."

"The people of Chicago are concerned as well as you men. Hundreds of persons lying in hospitals and the public in general will suffer unless you measure your steps before taking any definite strike action," he said.

"The gas company is financially able to pay its workers a decent wage, but if you take the situation in hand and strike in a 'runaway' strike the edge of the matter will lean toward the company."

Mayor Hylan's Condition Reported Worse; Fever 103

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 30.—Mayor John F. Hylan of New York City, whose condition was apparently improving, took a turn for the worse today. Although the mayor was said to be in no immediate danger, his illness was regarded as threatening.

His temperature, which had gone down to 100, went up to 103 tonight.

Gas Workers Reject Offer to Arbitrate

Arbitration was rejected and officials of the gas workers' and gas engineers' unions were instructed at a special meeting of both organizations at 189 West Washington street last night to stand pat on the gas employers' wage increase demands of 25 and 28 per cent. Despite this action there will be no strike for at least a week.

This morning a committee representing the two unions will deliver the ultimatum to officials of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company. Later they will confer with Mayor Dever, who had requested officials of the unions to avert, if possible, a shutdown of the city's supply of gas.

Another meeting of the union men was called for next Thursday night and unless the gas company accedes to the wage demands a date for the strike will then be set, according to present plans.

Approximately 500 gas workers crowded into the small hall in West Washington street a half an hour before the meeting was gavelled to order.

James Murphy, president of the gas workers' organization, presided.

Tells of Negotiations.

Murphy told of the progress of the wage negotiations with the gas company and of the company's refusal to grant the unions' demands.

Despite the admission by the gas company that its officials spent $10,000,000 in fighting the recent reduction in gas rates, they refuse to grant you men a decent wage," he said. "The company claims it would cost $10,000,000 if the increase were granted."

"Instead of giving us a definite proposal on a wage boost they advanced an arbitration plan which they assert will adjust the wage rates asked by their employees. The arbitration plan proposes that we appoint an arbitrator, the gas company one, and the two to select the third, or that the mayor of Chicago appoint the third man. If it was satisfactory to the union the gas company was willing that the mayor appoint all three arbitrators."

Tell for Quick Strike.

From several parts of the hall came cries of "We don't want arbitration." "Look what the street car men got by arbitrating their wage demands," yelled several others. "From the rear of the hall came shouts to 'strike at midnight tomorrow night unless the company grants the increase.'"

Reads Mayor's Letter.

Murphy gavelled the meeting to order and announced that Mayor Dever had requested the union chiefs to meet with him this morning. He read the mayor's letter, which follows:

"I have just received a communication from Mr. J. H. Rustace, chief operating engineer of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company, in which he calls my attention to the fact that Chicago by this company on Aug. 24, 1923, by you and your committee for an increase in wages paid the company's employees."

"You understand, of course, that I do not wish personally to interfere in matters that do not concern me, but any interruption in the service furnished the people of the city of Chicago by this company would be a matter of grave consequence to the people and one which I, as mayor of Chicago, would be required to take official notice of."

"It is my opinion that everybody concerned should do everything possible to adjust the pending controversy on fair terms, so that there may be no interruption of this service. I am, therefore, asking you and the members of your executive committee to meet me at my office at your earliest convenience, so that we may have an opportunity to discuss the matter with a view to arriving at an adjustment of the controversy that will be fair to every interest involved."

Letter Has Soothing Effect.

The mayor's letter had a calming effect on some of the radical workers who wanted to bolt the meeting and strike immediately. After it was read the meeting quieted down and members of the committee who represented the unions at the conference with the company spoke along the same lines as Murphy. John W. Goetz, business representative of the miners, urged the men not to take "snap judgment."

"The people of Chicago are concerned as well as you men. Hundreds of persons lying in hospitals and the public in general will suffer unless you measure your steps before taking any definite strike action," he said.

"The gas company is financially able to pay its workers a decent wage, but if you take the situation in hand and strike in a 'runaway' strike the edge of the matter will lean toward the company."

Mayor Hylan's Condition Reported Worse; Fever 103

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 30.—Mayor John F. Hylan of New York City, whose condition was apparently improving, took a turn for the worse today. Although the mayor was said to be in no immediate danger, his illness was regarded as threatening.

His temperature, which had gone down to 100, went up to 103 tonight.

REJECTS THREE DEMANDS MADE IN ULTIMATUM

Rome Says It Will Not Recede.

Day's Developments

Italy suddenly yesterday landed troops at Tangier, across the straits from Gibraltar, and patrolled the city. Tangier is the potential submarine base over which France, England, and Spain have been quarrelling, since it would form a strategic key to the Mediterranean rivaling the British Gibraltar.

Italian troops and ships are mobilized at Taranto on the heel of the Italian boot just across the Straits of Otranto from the Greek island of Corfu, which is the key to the eastern passages into the Adriatic sea.

Italy's ultimatum to Jugoslavia on the settlement of the Fiume question expires today.

Greece accepted in large part the first four articles of the seven articles in Italy's ultimatum on the assassination of Italian commissioner near Janina, but Athens rejected the last three articles, among which was a demand for $2,000,000 indemnity.

BULLETIN.

PARIS, Aug. 30.—In a message to the Greek government today the interallied council of ambassadors says that it reserves for the powers the right to make known eventually the penalties and indemnities which may be judged necessary in connection with the killing of the members of the Italian boundary mission on the Albanian frontier.

First—Ample excuses from the highest military commander instead of military authority.

Second—A memorial service with the government represented.

Third—On the same day a military detachment to render honors to the flag at the Italian legation.

Seventh—Military honors to the remains at Treves when they are taken aboard the Italian warship to be returned to Italy.

Greece is disposed to allow the bereaved families just indemnity and also to allow the Italian military attaché to supply any useful information he possesses to an inquiry commission.

Denies Italian Charge.

LONDON, Aug. 30.—It is understood that if Italy does not accept the Greek statement Greece will appeal to the League of Nations.

The note refutes the statement that the crime was committed under the eyes of the Greek authorities and says that the nearest Greek post was six miles distant from the scene of the killing. The note emphasizes that it has not been proved the assassins were Greeks and expresses surprise at the Italian government's claim to possess eyes of the Greek authorities and says documents relating to the massacre, and says that the Greek government would be grateful if these proofs could be given in order to support the cause of justice.

The Italian military attaché at Athens has gone to Janina to investigate the crime, and the Greek government has agreed to the request of the Italian legation that the censor do not suppress newspaper statements from Italian sources. It is not yet known what steps Italy will take to support its demands.

CALL GREEK AGGRESSOR

BY HENRY WALKER.

PARIS, Aug. 30.—Italian officials tonight stated that the censor do not suppress newspaper statements from Italian sources. It is not yet known what steps Italy will take to support its demands.

If Italy is forced to act, to take sanctions and to seize territorial gains because Greece refuses to comply with the ultimatum, it is exactly like France occupying the Ruhr because Germany failed to execute its obligations."

grasses, killing the Italian officers at Janina.

The Italian compare any seizure of Corfu to the French entry to the Ruhr.

Telephonic advices from Switzerland, in the absence of direct communications with Italy, broken off apparently because of censorship, indicate troop movements in the north, activity in aviation, and concentration of naval units at the nearest point to Corfu, Greece.

Reports insist that certain categories of Italian officers have been ordered by telegram to hold themselves in readiness to join posts immediately.

Three Greek newspaper men were expelled from Italy this afternoon. They called at Premier Mussolini's headquarters, seeking information regarding an ultimatum to Greece. A carabinieri ordered the newspaper men out, the police arresting and deporting them.

Queen Marie of Roumania arrived in Paris tonight. She is hurrying back to Bucharest, cutting short her visit at the summer resort of Saint-Brieuc on the Brittany coast. She is the mother of the queens of Greece and Yugoslavia and is credited by the French political press as having great influence on the government in her country. Premier Poincaré promised her that he would recognize the Greek government a fortnight ago, according to a note published at that time by Quai d'Orsay. The queen will remain in Paris long enough to remind him of his promise, according to a Roumanian informant.

Censor in Italy.

ROME, Aug. 30.—[United News.]—Suppression of news of Italian movements has been decreed as a result of the Greek-Italian crisis.

The Italian government issued the following official communiqué this evening:

"The government invites the press to use discretion in news material."

"Either true or unverified military movements must not be published for obvious reasons."

"The government counts upon the patriotism of the press."

"If the warning is not heeded immediate suppressive measures will be resorted to."

STONE GREEK CONSULATE

BY V. DE SANTO.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

ROME, Aug. 30.—[Tribune.]—Hostile demonstrations were held before the Greek consulate in Naples today. The crowd pelted stones on the building, breaking windows and wounding one consular employee. The flag of Greece was torn down by a group of young Fascists who climbed to the roof. The police protected the building and prevented the Fascists from entering, but the damage was considerable. Parades were held through Naples throughout the day, singing Fascist songs and crying "Down with Greece!"

Admiral Thaon Dervail, who was at Pola, was called by Premier Mussolini and rushed to Rome this morning.

Destroy Jugo-Slav Vessel.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

FUME, Aug. 30.—The Fascist this afternoon attacked a merchant boat belonging to Jugo-Slavia in the port of Fiume, chasing the Jugo-Slav crew out and destroying the vessel. This was a measure of reprisal for an incident at Fiume yesterday, when some Fiume independence association members beat up an Italian naval captain and two sailors and took off their Fascist buttons.

Italy will not agree to appeal to the league of nations for arbitration, nor will it consent to discuss any point. The demands made are stated to be the minimum that will satisfy the Italian people.

Italy is prepared to take drastic measures to obtain satisfaction. The whole nation seems to approve and is ready to support Premier Mussolini's stand. Important opposition newspapers, like the Milan Corriere della Sera and the Rome El Mundo, editorially declare their support.

RASH, BRITISH VIEW

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 30.—[Tribune Radio.]—There is strong disapproval in British diplomatic circles of Premier Mussolini's ultimatum to Greece, which is considered rash and uncalled for before an investigation. It is hoped here that Greece will insist on bringing the matter before the league of nations.

Both Greece and Italy are members of the league, and this is a case for its arbitration. Demands such as those issued by Italy are proper only after the usual means to get satisfaction have failed.

Premier Mussolini's assumption that the Greek government is responsible for the murders of the Italian mission is also thought entirely unfounded, the crime appearing to have been the work of local irregulars who hardly can be distinguished from bandits.

Alarm in Cabinet.

Italy's demand struck consternation into the cabinet, which took two steps—first, discreet inquiries at Paris and London to see if the powers were willing to admit Italy into the Tangier squabble, and second, the arrangement of an official visit of the Spanish sovereign to Rome in October to obtain the friendship of Premier Mussolini as much as possible.

The cabinet talked with one of the most important officials of the foreign affairs ministry today. Although discreet, he could not conceal his disturbance over Italy's attitude. He pointed out that Italy never previously was supposed to have any claim on Tangier or any particular interest in that city's fate.

Doctrine of Mussolini.

Premier Mussolini's contention is based on the fact that whoever controls Tangier is the principal key to the Mediterranean. If Great Britain gets both Tangier and Gibraltar, Italy is bottled up. While Spanish officials recognize the good sense of this reasoning, they point out that Italy has no right historically, racially, or commercially to claim Tangier or any part of it. The official Spanish attitude is and remains—despite semi-official arrangements with the British—that Tangier is a Spanish city.

MUSSOLINI'S VISION

These are the details of the latest threat at the peace of Europe:

1—Five Italian officials were shot on Aug. 28 near Janina, on Greek territory, while engaged in fixing the boundary between Greece and Albania, a state under the protection of Italy. No one professes to know who the slayers are.

2—After waiting two days, Mussolini sent an ultimatum to Greece demanding a payment of fifty million lire ($3,500,000), severe measures against the assassins, and full honors to the dead men. The time limit is twenty-four hours. Greece protests that the terms are impossible.

3—Italian warships begin to gather for drive at the harbor of Piræus, the port of Athens, and to seize island of Corfu, key to the Adriatic.

4—The Italian fleet mobilizes at Taranto, on the heel of Italy across from Greece.

5—Italian troops are reported to be mobilizing at Fiume.

6—Italian troops have been landed at Tangier, potential submarine base and key to the Mediterranean rivaling Gibraltar.

MADRID, Aug. 30.—[Tribune Radio.]—Italy made a brusque entrance into the Tangier question last night by landing twelve carabinieri at Tangier, patrolling the streets and looking for "outrages" on Italian citizens last night.

The cabinet was called into an all day and nearly all night meeting to consider the grave situation in Morocco, complicated by Italy's claim to be considered at Tangier.

Premier Marquis de Alhucemas' formal presentation of Premier Mussolini's demand for Italy is forthcoming at the London conference, at which England, France, and Spain will decide the fate of the city which Spain claims by historical right.

FIGURES SHOW CRIME IS ON DECLINE HERE

Higher standards of police efficiency set by his recently formed "efficiency squad" and a generally strengthened departmental morale account for the material reduction of major crimes in the first four months of his régime.

Chief of Police Collins told members of the Better Government association of Chicago at the Hamilton club yesterday.

The largest reduction effected was in burglaries, which under former Chief Fitzsimmons amounted to 1,412 for four months. In the last four months only 915 burglaries were committed.

Figures for May, June, July and August of 1932 and 1933, according to the report of Chief Collins follow:

	1932	1933
Burglaries	1,412	915
Robberies	486	341
Larceny	752	501
Miscellaneous	194	114
Murder	44	34
Manlaughter	36	30

CHARITY SCHOOL IS MYTH, BUT IT NETS HIM CASH

According to his confession in court yesterday, Charles Millard, 33 years old, 2435 South Michigan avenue, has paid his living expenses since last March out of funds he collected for a mythical charity school for poor white children in the Ozark mountains. He was arrested on Wednesday on the complaint of Maj. Birger Oeland, head of Birger Oeland & Co., investment brokers, 108 South La Salle street, one of his alleged victims.

He was fined $500 and costs by Judge Daniel P. Trude. The fine to be worked out at the rate of $1.50 a day in the House of Correction.

American Embassy in Havana Silent.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 30.—[Special.]—Acting on instructions from his government, Dr. Arturo Padro, chargé d'affaires of the Cuban legation here, called at the state department today and informed Acting Secretary Phillips that no censorship had been established by the Cuban government on messages sent to or from the island by any cable company and that reports to that effect published yesterday were not correct.

In addition, Dr. Padro assured the American state department, on the strength of his message from the Cuban secretary of state, Dr. Cespedes, that conditions in the republic were entirely peaceful.

No word from United States Embassy.

The state department has received no direct communication from the American embassy in regard to the reported holding up of messages or inspection by Cuban officials of messages sent through the offices of the Commercial Cable company. The only official assurance the state department has received on the subject, it was stated, was through the advice to the Cuban legation.

A report on the present economic and financial situation in Cuba will be laid before officials of this government next Thursday, it was learned here today, by Dr. Celso Cuellar, son in law of President Zayas of Cuba, who is now in New York.

Brig. Gen. Russell, United States commissioner in Haiti, today had a conference with President Coolidge on conditions in that republic.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 30.—[Special.]—That the Philadelphia Rapid Transit will be owned and controlled by its workers at no distant date is the prediction of Thomas E. Mitten, chairman of the executive committee of the corporation.

At the fifth annual dinner of the committee of the P. R. T. Co. employees Welfare association Mr. Mitten declared:

"At the rate we are running now it will not be long before you are able to select the whole board of directors and the men who, as officials, will direct the company's affairs."

Seated alongside Mr. Mitten was Ralph Nyman, president of the co-operative association, a motorman on route 48 line and a director of the P. R. T.

"I now express to you my increasing certainty," Mr. Mitten said, "that you will become the controlling owners of the P. R. T. and that you will be able then to operate the property most acceptably to yourselves and to the public."

Nyman said that trustees of the employees now own 91,110 shares of P. R. T. stock. Added to the 10,000 shares owned by the welfare association, the total is 101,110 shares, which is more than one-sixth of the entire capital stock of the company.

CHICAGO—A CITY FIT TO LIVE IN—MOTTO OF POLICE

Collins to Protect Rights of Normal Citizen.

Chief of Police Collins last night announced the reassuring policy that Chicago is going to be a fit place to live in. The line of thought is not established here, pronounced, commercial vice is anathema in the eyes of honest patriots; trial board for the dishonest ones.

But the well meaning Chicagoan, whose tastes and habits are normal, whose traditions are healthy, and whose inspiration is neither criminal nor psychopathic, may find some pleasant tints with which to embellish a life that otherwise might fade into the pallor of petulant puritanism.

What He Will Recommend.

In substantiation of the views thus outlined Chief Collins threw open the skylight on an apparently murky municipality and admitted three rays of light, as follows:

1. The chief will go before Mayor Dwyer and ask a favorable ruling on the proposal that amateur boxing be permitted within restrictions to be laid down by the chief. Bona fide clubs, such as the Chicago Athletic, Illinois Athletic, and other downtown clubs, owning buildings and with definite memberships, to be considered as within the meaning of the ruling, but all transient and obviously fraudulent enterprises to be barred.

2. Citizens are not to be molested, either in their persons or in their homes, in the search for liquor, unless by the regular process of search warrant for malignant violation.

3. Citizens may consider themselves entirely free to enjoy themselves in any public place so long as they refrain from disorderly conduct, within the generally accepted meaning of the term.

Raid Provokes Announcement.

The promulgation of the chief's views on personal liberty grew out of a number of incidents which have provoked somewhat unrestrained bursts of public opinion. The first of these was the police raid on the Tent, a restaurant in North State street, where patrol wagon loads of patrons, men and women of good reputation, were carted off to the Chicago avenue police station and forced to give bonds and to appear in court.

"It is to be rule of the police department," the chief was asked, "that citizens are to be arrested when they congregate to dine or dance in a place known to be open to the public and which is not conducted successfully?"

"It is to be rule of the police department," the chief was asked, "that citizens are to be arrested when they congregate to dine or dance in a place known to be open to the public and which is not conducted successfully?"

"Certainly not," said the chief. "The raid on the Tent may be criticized on the ground that it was not the best of judgment on the part of the officers on the post. But I cannot shake men for performing what they consider their duty. They should have known that patrons of a public place, so long as they are orderly, are within their rights. The report to me was one of disorder. I don't think it will happen again."

The Wrong Assumption.

"In all such cases," said the chief, "it is not to be assumed without good cause that the patrons are at fault. If a hotel is known to be a persistent violator it is sufficient to arrest the proprietor. The fact that a hotel or other public place is open for business apparently is a guarantee to the public. It is difficult for a policeman to determine the designs of men and women. A policeman cannot be a moral inspector, peering into the motive of citizens. This man and woman may be thoroughly moral; that man and woman thoroughly immoral. Who can tell? But if the common reputation of a house is bad it isn't the business of the policeman to police it."

Boys' Boxing Suppressed.

The last of the complaints against the intimation of police intolerance came with the report of the order against a youthful boxing exhibition scheduled for Wednesday evening in the social center of Chase house at 211 South Ashland boulevard. This event, a boyish enterprise, lacking even the slightest smack of commercialism and

A YOUNG MILKMAID

Vivian Stewart of Palatine is the youngest milkmaid at the Cook county fair which is being held at Palatine. This is Junior day at the fair.

School Exhibits Feature

Success of the Junior Cook county fair, held at Palatine yesterday under the supervision of Edward J. Tobin, county superintendent of schools, and A. E. Paul and Charles W. Parr, of his staff exceeded expectations.

Two group exhibits which attracted much attention were those of the St. Charles school for boys and the St. Charles school for girls. The St. Charles school also sent its band to provide music for the occasion assisted by the Boy Scout band of Palatine.

The Junior Fair is part of the Cook county fair which continues until Sept. 3. Today is Farmers' Day, when Sheriff Peter M. Hoffman will speak on highway protection and its importance to the farmers, and E. C. Rockwell, of the Milk Producers association, will also talk. Entries for the agricultural exhibits are well above the average this year.

Letter of the Law Absurd.

"Boxing was ruled out. That applied to the commercial exhibitions. But it has not applied to boxing given under the auspices of the army or navy. I think it would be absurd to try to carry out the extreme letter of the law on boxing. It would be mandatory upon the police to prevent a boxer from training in Chicago. If a boxer should trot along the lake front for exercise it is conceivable that he might be in training for a match, and he would be liable to arrest under the Illinois boxing law."

There can be only one kind of a police officer. Police cannot be given wide latitude. It would destroy discipline. Now then, when Arthur Burrage Farwell complains to the chief's office that a boxing match is contemplated at 211 South Ashland boulevard, that complaint is transmitted to the proper police station. The sergeant transmits it to the patrolman on the beat. The patrolman doesn't want to be suspended for failure to obey orders. There you are."

"I understand Mr. Farwell is a church member. I understand the boxing match in Chase House was under the direction of the church. It was only an amateur athletic affair. The complaint went through the usual channels. I cannot take cognizance of each minor complaint. But I would suggest this: If any respectable organization wants to hold an amateur bout it ought to be of enough importance to make a request of the chief's office. If it is innocent of the discredit features that always arouse complaint, the request for sanction will be granted."

Freedom for the Chicago citizen in his normal habits was thus apparently assured. One more point was raised. "Some time ago," the chief was told, "not in your administration, a peddle wheel in a church fair was stopped. Is it to be the policy to prohibit such obviously charitable enterprises?"

No Interference Planned.

"I regard all church affairs as having only one purpose," said the chief. "They are for the benefit of the church. When a person enters a church fair he goes to contribute something in some way. He does not go to win money in a gambling game from the religious organization to which he belongs. That is hardly churchly. It doesn't matter to him how he gives this money. If it is a pleasure, if it heightens the happiness of the moment for him to play

DRYS AND WETS BOTH LAY CLAIM TO COOLIDGE O. K.

But W. K. Silence Shrouds Him on "Moist"

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
Washington, D. C., Aug. 30.—[Special.]—With the movement for a beer and light wine modification of the Volstead act gaining ground, increasing curiosity concerning the attitude of President Coolidge on the whole question of prohibition is being manifested.

Senator Morris Sheppard (Dem., Tex.), who piloted the eighteenth amendment through the senate, is confident the President will stand with the drys against any modification of the Volstead law. Senator Walter Edge (Rep., N. J.) is equally certain that if congress authorized beer and light wine the President will sign the bill with alacrity.

Mr. Coolidge has made it clear that he stands for strict enforcement of the law, but as to changes therein he has maintained unimpaired his well known brand of silence.

Swore Off to Stand by Law.

The new President used to take a drink of hard liquor now and then, but, according to the testimony of his intimates, he swore off completely some time ago for the same reason as did the late President Harding. He thought that those who enforce the law ought to set the example of obedience to law.

It is recalled that Mr. Coolidge years ago ran as a "wet" for mayor of Northampton, Mass., and was elected. When he was governor of Massachusetts, however, he vetoed the beer and light wine bill on legal grounds.

"There is little satisfaction in attempting to deceive ourselves," Mr. Coolidge said in the veto message. "There is grave danger in attempting to deceive the people. If this act were placed on the statute books of the police yesterday at the Victoria hotel, no one would dare act upon it, or, if any one did, he would certainly be charged with crime."

"Law Doubled Too Much."

"The authority of the law is questioned in these days all too much. The binding obligation of obedience against personal desire is denied in many quarters. If these doctrines prevail all organized government; all liberty, all security are at an end. Force alone will prevail."

There has been a good deal of speculation as to whether Mr. Coolidge had the eighteenth amendment in mind when he made the following remarks in an address to the American Bar association Aug. 19, 1922:

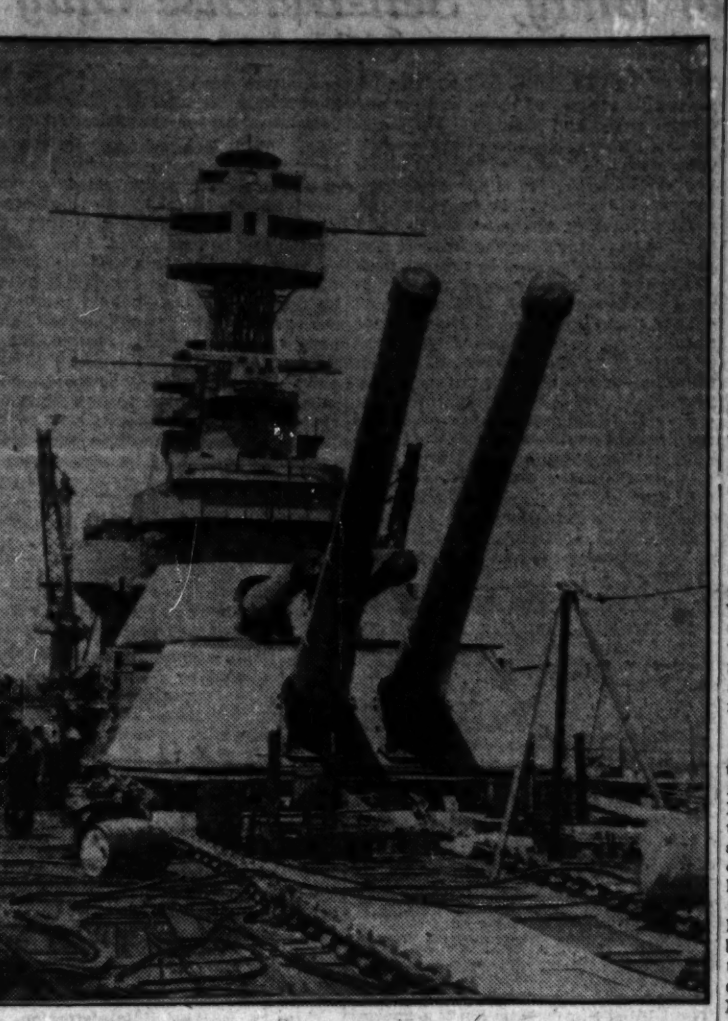

"Behind very many of these enlarging activities (of the government) lies the untenable theory that there is some short cut to perfection. It is conceived that there can be a horizontal elevation of the standards of the nation, immediate and perceptible, by the simple device of new laws. This has never been the case in human experience."

Law Does Not Lead, Follows.

"Progress is slow and the result of a long and arduous process of self-discipline. It is not conferred upon the people; it comes from the people. In a republic the law reflects rather than makes the standard of conduct and the state of public opinion. Real reform does not begin with a law, it ends with a law. The attempt to drag the body when the need is to convince the soul will end in revolt."

"Under the attempt to perform the impossible there sets in a general disintegration."

GIRLS, 14 AND 15, SEEKING FORTUNE HERE, ARRESTED

"I have always wanted to come to the big city where I can lead a free and untrammelled life, become a great actress and win fame and fortune. Our experience in father's amusement park will be a great help."

So said Miss Sarah Burkhart, 14 year old adopted daughter of an amusement park owner at Homer, Ill., who, together with Flossie Wells, 15 years, daughter of a Homer farmer also employed in the Burkhart amusement park, were taken into custody by the police yesterday at the Victoria hotel. The two girls, who had rented an apartment at 1218 N. Clark street, were to start their theatrical careers, they said, by getting jobs in some factory. They were arrested on suspicion of being a deserter from the army.

The midwest conference on Indian affairs held a luncheon and meeting at the City club yesterday. Plans were formulated for the Indian convention to be held at the City club Sept. 24 to 30.

Dr. G. E. Lindquist, author of the "Redmen of the United States" was a guest. Dr. Elmer E. Higley accepted chairmanship of missions for the coming conference.

Various committee chairmen were elected from among representatives of the Illinois Federation of Women's Clubs, the Chicago Church federation, the University of Chicago, and the South Park commission.

CROWE TO CHECK EVERY PISTOL PERMIT ISSUED

Vinci's Right to Gun Will Be Taken Away.

State's Attorney Crowe pushed his drive on "gun totes" who carry deadly weapons under permits granted by justices of the peace and police magistrates outside the city limits, with an order issued yesterday to his staff to investigate the character and reputation of every person engaging in the practice.

Letters calling for a list of all persons to whom permits to carry concealed weapons have been granted were sent out to every justice office in the county. As soon as they are obtained a careful investigation will be made of the application for the permit and of the person to whom it was issued.

Wants Permit Revoked.

The state's attorney's action was taken after he had demanded of Walter Ahern, police magistrate of Evergreen Park, that he revoke a permit given to James Vinci, a police character and alleged confessed driver of the "death car" used by the slayers of a well known labor leader two years ago.

Admissions that he had granted a license to James Vinci, a relative of Sam Cardinella, hanged two years ago for the murder of several men, were made by Ahern under Mr. Crowe's questioning. Ahern agreed to revoke the two permits.

Was Vinci Claimed.

The application for the permit granted to Vinci read as follows, in part: "He is a person of good character and... he carries a considerable amount of money going to and from his place of business (supposed to be a store at 3258 Princeton avenue, now out of existence) to his home at late hours through dimly lighted streets..."

The application was dated June 13, 1923.

Four Italian families were routed from their flats last night when a bomb was exploded in the hallway of the three story brick building at 218-19 North Leavitt street. Windows were broken and a hole torn in the hall leading to the barber shop of Louis Dandria at 516.

Louis Marino, owner of the building, told the police he suspected blackmailers set off the bomb to frighten him and admitted receiving three threatening letters, the last demanding $8,000.

MILLIKEN IS PUT IN CHARGE OF THE TRUANCY SCHOOL

6 Instructors Released; Smith Not Assigned.

While the grand jury was taking final steps yesterday in the inquiry into alleged brutality at the Parental school, Supt. Mortenson was announcing that he had appointed Orin J. Milliken, head of the Cook county school for boys, superintendent of the parental institution.

The appointment of Mr. Milliken, hailed as a pioneer in advanced and humane methods of dealing with unruly boys, was greeted with enthusiasm by the school board. He probably will take charge next week.

George B. Maguire, principal of the Wells school, was appointed to succeed Mr. Milliken at the Cook county school.

Release Six Instructors.

Coincidentally with Mr. Milliken's appointment came the release of six instructors at the Parental school. They are Mr. and Mrs. John Shaw, Mr. and Mrs. Archibald, R. Davis and Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Turrell. Fred T. Smith, suspended superintendent, was not assigned to a school.

Acting on recommendations from Supt. Mortenson and the administration committee, the board of education yesterday decided to cooperate with the city and civic organizations in a plan to educate prisoners awaiting trial. It is intended to use the school at the Juvenile Detention house and to open the old John Worth school for the work. Definite plans will be worked out by the superintendent of schools, it was announced.

A study of corrective schools by the board and cooperation with various civic and social agencies to find a method of conducting institutions such as the Parental school was also recommended by Supt. Mortenson.

MORTENSON TESTIFIES

Supt. Mortenson and Fred E. Smith, deposed principal of the Boys' Parental school, were the principal witnesses before the grand jury.

This morning the grand jury will draw up the indictment for the persons they believe to be responsible for conditions at the school for the last few months. It is reported that at least four persons, frequently mentioned in the investigation, will be involved.

The jurors also listened yesterday to testimony from Archibald Davis. The nature of Supt. Mortenson and Smith's testimony was not revealed. They were said to have explained the treatment of the youthful inmates in much different fashion than that described by a number of the boys.

SEES POLITICS WITHIN

Charging that politics within the educational system itself has been at work there, Supt. Mortenson, at the city hall and the schools, J. Lewis Deane, member of the school board, yesterday entered the discussion of educational politics.

"I do not believe that there has been any politics played in the school since the Deane administration came in," he stated. "But I do believe that there are innumerable politicians in the school administration. The politics has not been sponsored by Mr. Mortenson or Mayor Deane, but by numerous lesser administrative officials, especially the district superintendents. There is a closed ring in the school administration and the city hall is not big enough to hold the petty politicians that are hiding behind the professorial desire to protect the children."

Mr. Deane asserted that a political machine exists with which teachers must curry favor before they can hope to be advanced.

Hughes Defines Monroe Doctrine Before American Bar Body; "Self-Defense Only"

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 30.—The Monroe Doctrine was defined here tonight by Secretary Hughes as embodying a policy vitally related to national safety, inimical to no just interest in Latin America or elsewhere, and imposing no barrier to the promotion of peace and understanding.

Speaking before the American Bar association, the secretary declared that while the doctrine in no way established a "protection" over other American republics, American rights, and obligations not specifically outlined by Monroe in his famous message, had sometimes made intervention in some Latin American states an absolute necessity.

He recalled that the right to intervene in Cuba is a matter of record in the treaty of 1904, although, he added, that the United States would rather, if possible, continue in its present role of "friendly adviser."

"Taking the Monroe Doctrine as it has been and as it is believed to remain," said Mr. Hughes, "I desire to comment upon certain points which, in my belief, deserve special emphasis at this time."

Not Document of Aggression.

"First, the Monroe Doctrine is not a policy of aggression; it is a policy of self-defense. It was asserted at a time when the danger of foreign aggression in this hemisphere was very real, when the new American states had not yet established a firm basis of independent national life, and we were menaced by threats of old world powers directed against republican institutions."

"But the achievements of the century have not altered the scope of the doctrine or changed its basis. It still remains an assertion of the principle of national security. As such, it is obviously not exclusive."

"Second, as the policy embodied in the Monroe Doctrine is distinctly the policy of the United States, the government of the United States reserves to itself its definition, interpretation, and application. This government has welcomed the recognition by other governments of the fact and soundness of this policy and of the appropriateness of its application from time to time."

"But the United States has not been disposed to enter into engagements which would have the effect of submitting to any other power or to any concert of powers the determination either of the occasions upon which the principle of the Monroe Doctrine shall be invoked or of the measures that shall be taken in giving it effect."

"Third, as the policy embodied in the Monroe Doctrine is distinctly the policy of the United States, the government of the United States reserves to itself its definition, interpretation, and application. This government has welcomed the recognition by other governments of the fact and soundness of this policy and of the appropriateness of its application from time to time."

"This implies neither suspicion nor antagonism. It simply means that the United States is asserting a separate national right of self-defense, and that in the exercise of this right it must have an unhindered discretion."

No Attempt at Domination.

"Third, the policy of the Monroe Doctrine does not infringe upon the independence and sovereignty of other American states. Misconception upon this point is the only disturbing influence in our relations with Latin American states."

"I utterly disclaim any unwarranted observations which occasionally have been made implying a claim on our part to superintend the affairs of our sister republics, to assert an overlordship, to consider the spread of our authority beyond our own domain as the aim of our policy and to make our power the test of right in this hemisphere. They do not express our national purpose; they belie our sincere friendship; they are false to the fundamental principles of our institutions and of our foreign policy, which has sought to reflect, with rare exceptions, the ideals of liberty; they menace us by stimulating a distrust which has no real foundation."

"Fourth, there are, indeed, modern conditions and recent events which cannot fail to engage our attention. We have grown rich and powerful, but we have not outgrown the necessity, in justice to ourselves and without injury to others, of safeguarding our future peace and security. By building the Panama canal we have created exigencies and new conditions of strategy and defense. It is for us to protect that highway. It may also be necessary for us at some time to build another canal between the Atlantic and the Pacific oceans, and to protect that."

"So far as the region of the Caribbean is concerned, it may be said that if we had no Monroe Doctrine we should have to create one. And this is not only to imply any limitation on the scope of the doctrine, as originally proclaimed and as still maintained, but simply to indicate that new occasions require new applications of an old principle which remains completely effective. In the unsettled condition of certain countries in the region of the Caribbean it has been necessary to assert those rights and obligations as well as the limited principles of the Monroe Doctrine."

Where U. S. Has Intervened.

Mr. Hughes said that in 1898 the United States had intervened in Cuba because "conditions at our very door" had become intolerable and "our action, as John Hay said, was analogous to what is known in private law as the abatement of a nuisance."

"In the settlement that followed the establishment of Cuban independence, the United States agreed to enter into any treaty with any foreign power which would tend to impair her independence, nor in any manner authorize or permit any foreign power or powers to obtain, by colonization or for military or naval purposes or otherwise, lodgment in or control of any portion of said island."

"There were also restrictive provisions as to the contracting of debts. The United States thus holds a special position in relation to Cuba, but it should be pointed out and clearly understood that, while in view of the position we have acted as the friendly adviser of the Cuban government, our action has been solely for the purpose of aiding in maintaining the independence and stability of Cuba and thus not to create but to preclude the necessity of intervention."

Sought to Bolster New Republics.

Secretary Hughes then outlined the events leading to the occupation of Santo Domingo and Haiti. "But, in the case of Santo Domingo, as has falsely been charged, to establish a permanent control of Santo Domingo," he continued, "the government of the United States has been anxious to arrange for the termination of the occupation and the withdrawal of its forces. It is expected that elections in which the authorities of the United States will not intervene will be held about the middle of September and in due course a permanent government will be established."

Of Haiti the secretary said: "The government of the United States is seeking to make its relation to Haiti beneficial to the Haitian people; it has no other aim but to establish peace and stability. It does not seek to assert or to control the territory of Haiti."

Taft Opposes His Committee.

The feature of the business session today was the report of the committee on judicial ethics. Instead of recommending adoption of the report, Chief Justice W. H. Taft, chairman of the committee which prepared it, urged modification and further study of proposed canons for the judiciary.

Mr. Taft, commenting on the report, declared that adoption of a code of ethics should be preceded by thorough consideration by the parties affected. He recommended that the committee be continued while action on the list of canons and ethics was postponed; that the recommendations be reported to the judicial section of the bar association, and that the chairman of this section, Justice Pierce Butler of the United States Supreme court, be authorized to appoint a committee of from three to five judges to consider the recommendations of the judicial ethics committee and make recommendations of its own, which would be reported to the judicial ethics committee and reported next year.

These recommendations were adopted.

Features of Report.

The main features of the committee's report, summarizing "judicial obligation," were as follows:

"A judge's conduct in every particular should be above reproach. He should be conscientious, studious, thorough, courteous, patient, punctual, just, impartial, fearless of public clamor, regardless of the praise and indifference to private, political or partisan influences."

"He should not allow other affairs or his private interests to interfere with the prompt and proper performance of his judicial duties."

"A judge should be courteous to counsel, especially to those who are young and inexperienced. He should not act in a controversy where a near relative is a party if such course can be reasonably avoided."

"Delay in the administration of justice is a common cause of complaint. A judge, without being arbitrary, may well endeavor to hold counsel to a proper appreciation of their duties to the public interest, so as to enforce due diligence in the dispatch of business."

The report of the section on criminal law, including a uniform criminal code, was unanimously adopted by the convention upon its presentation by Floyd E. Thompson of Rock Island, Ill., chairman of the section.

Investigation of complaints of illegal procedure in bankruptcy cases, was decided upon by the convention in professional ethics and grievances, submitted by Chairman Thomas F. Howe, Chicago.

Other Convention Action.

Reports of American citizenship and law enforcement committee were also recommended.

Reading the law enforcement committee's report, Charles S. Whitman of New York, chairman, recommended the establishment of an auxiliary commission of the bar association to deal with this subject, and this was referred to the executive committee.

Former Attorney General George W. Wickersham's resolution declaring it the bar association's belief "that the United States should have a party to the permanent court of international justice at The Hague was referred to the executive committee.

The present convention is the largest in the history of the bar association.

EXPECT MINERS TO WALK OUT AT MIDNIGHT

Both Sides to Reject the Terms of Pinchot.

off" system of dues collection, by which the employers are required to hold out of each employee's pay an amount sufficient to cover union dues, and turn this over to local unions. It will be said in the miners' response that such a system, now enforced in unionized bituminous mining territory, constitutes real "recognition of the union," which the governor's proposition offered, insures collective bargaining, and that nothing else will adequately cover the ground.

There were no minor questions raised in the union response, as to the methods suggested for applying the principle of his proposition through the joint scale committee of the union and operators with the anthracite conciliation board as an arbiter.

But on the whole, the union officials will declare themselves willing to negotiate if Gov. Pinchot's final conference finds the operators in any compromising frame of mind.

Gov. Pinchot refused all comment today upon the situation, but there was a suggestion that as a final resort he might ask for a thirty day truce and the calling off of the union's suspension while negotiations continued.

Owners Refuse to Talk.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 30.—The general policies committee of the anthracite operators held a long session here today considering the proposal of Gov. Pinchot for bringing a settlement in the wage controversy with the hard coal miners and reached a decision which will be presented to the governor tomorrow.

In keeping with the suggestion of the governor that he be first informed of the response to be made by both miners and operators, the coal company representatives withheld all information on the subject.

NEW PLEDGES TO LANDIS AWARD BY CONTRACTORS

Chicago contractors and architects operating under the Landis award held a meeting with officials of the citizens' committee to enforce the Landis award yesterday in the Union League club and renewed their pledges of support to the committee in its activities to establish building on a clean, permanent basis.

Alfred Granger, president of the Illinois chapter of the American Institute of Architects, presided at a meeting that architects were showing renewed signs of enthusiasm for the Landis award and were capable of carrying the award fight through to success.

THOMSON DECREE SET ASIDE; WIFE GIVEN DIVORCE

Turning the tables on her lawyer husband, Mrs. Elsie Thomson, 6854 South Ridgeland avenue, yesterday won a reversal of a decree for divorce recently given Attorney Melville R. Thomson. She was granted the divorce when she told Judge John J. Sullivan of the attorney's affair with another woman. The husband filed stipulations agreeing to the setting aside of his decree, which he obtained on charges of cruelty.

Mrs. Thomson, an organist, said that upon her return last April from a visit to San Francisco she learned of Thomson's love for a woman with whom he lived at 1219 Rosemont street as his wife.

Her charges were corroborated by Mrs. Oscar Frisk, wife of the janitor at 1219 Rosemont street, who said that for three or four weeks she had seen Thomson with the other woman in their apartment.

Mrs. Thomson, by agreement, received the custody of her youngest son, Roland, 2 years old, and gave her husband the other boy, Melville Jr., 8.

Takes Two Children,

$800, When She Elopes

Taking two of her three children with her and her husband's savings of $800, Mrs. Dorothy Deluca, 29 years old, 7716 Greenwood avenue, eloped yesterday with her brother-in-law, Fred Deluca, who also took along his 3 year old son, Peter Deluca, the deserted husband, who returned home to find one of his sons, George, 3½ years old, alone and crying, told the police he was afraid his brother and his wife were headed for Italy.

MCGRAY TO PAY IF GIVENTIME, CREDITORS TOLD

Meets with Them Today to Plan Settlement.

Indianapolis, Ind., Aug. 30.—[Special.]—Gov. Warren T. McCray of Indiana will take the first hurdle over his financial difficulties tomorrow when he will face his creditors at a meeting which he has called for the purpose of reaching an agreement.

Negotiations with creditors had reached a point tonight, it was said, where a formal trusteeship of the McCray assets would be created and the creditors would take over the tangled obligations of the governor and give him a reasonable time in which to reorganize.

The governor's plan, it was said tonight, provides for the appointment of a committee of five bankers to take control of the governor's property with the exception of the Kentland home.

Will Conduct Business.
The committee will have full power to conduct the business, borrow money if thought advisable, or sell part or all of the assets.

Mrs. McCray, it was said, will agree to sign deeds if property is sold. By this agreement she waives her right to one-third of the property which she can claim under the Indiana law.

Gov. McCray was seen tonight in the office of his attorney, James W. Noel. The governor was immersed in long lists of figures and looked badly worried. He is far from beaten, however, and spoke forcefully of "blackmail" on the part of political enemies.

"Bolted down to one fact," he said, "you find a farmer a land owner, who is caught after three disastrous years in the farming business. I could not collect my bills and found myself unable to meet some of my own obligations. That is all there is to it. I happen to be the governor of Indiana. But this is a private matter that has happened to hundreds of other farmers. Business has not suffered."

"Every liability will be paid. Remember that."

Creditors Mostly Bankers.
The creditors are said to be mostly bankers.

Notes of the Farm Corporations controlled by the governor are said to be in the hands of about fifty banks. There is no accurate estimate of the amount of the governor's liabilities.

The governor claims to have a $1,000,000 equity in farm lands which he holds. The Warren T. McCray Farm Realty company was incorporated Nov. 3, 1921. The company was authorized to sell $550,000 of 7 percent tax free stock. The stock was sold to be secured by 6,814 acres of farm land appraised at $1,318,230.

Since that time, however, Indiana farm lands, in common with other farm lands, have depreciated in value because of the slump in farm products prices.

Land and Cattle Holdings.
The governor now claims land holdings of more than 15,000 acres and 1,200 head of cattle, mostly pure bred.

The governor borrowed $350,000 last week, but no authentic information has been given out regarding the membership in the pool that financed this loan.

Former Gov. Goodrich, said to have been the leader in organizing the pool, has been in New York and is expected in Indianapolis tomorrow or Saturday before the organization of the pool the Orchard Lake Stock farm was incorporated on Aug. 17, taking over the governor's live stock assets.

Tom Taggart, who is said to have been in the pool, referred all inquiries to Mr. Goodrich. Others named are Marcus Sonntag of Evansville, Frank Ball, manufacturer of Munchie; Joseph D. Oliver of South Bend, and James Allison, of Speedway and fish aquarium fame.

WHAT HOME FOLK SAY.

BY ORVILLE DWYER.

Kentland, Ind., Aug. 30.—[Special.]—Here in Kentland, Gov. McCray's home town, a community of farmers, many of whom hold some of the governor's paper, there is a strange mixture of feeling—regret, resentment, and grief—over the governor's predicament.

Perhaps the attitude of the whole community was best summed up in an interview with William Darroch, a lifelong friend of the governor, who succeeded him as president of the Discount and Deposit State bank, and who for many years was Gov. McCray's legal adviser.

Judge Darroch is 75 years old and he says he is a lawyer and not a banker.

MILESTONES

(Copyright, 1923, By The Chicago Tribune.)

He wept when he told how the board of directors of the bank a few days ago voted to refuse, while the governor was still president, to honor any more of his checks "because Gov. McCray had already too much paper in the bank."

Governor Badly Involved.
"I have represented Gov. McCray for years," said the aged attorney rather wearily. "Now I am afraid he is badly involved."

"Gov. McCray is a victim of what this nation has done to its farmers. A few years ago he was on the high tide of fortune. He is a good business man, none better, and he was a very rich man. Then in a day came the sudden slump in the agricultural industry and everything was changed."

"The governor's business has been five o'clock, pure bred stock and land."

His Creditors Caught.
"When the slump came he had been dealing with some strong men in the Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas, all through that country. He took a lot of their paper and discounted a good deal of it through the banks. He must hold a lot of that paper now. They were strong men, very strong financially, but the depression caught them, too."

"But he had faith in pure bred stock and land and he kept right on through the depression with his deals. He must have lost heavily."

"Now he's been away from here for more than a year and I have not been representing him. How far the thing has gone is hard to tell—I wish I knew."

It was made known here today that Gov. McCray is vice president of the Sowers Grain company of Chicago and a member of the Chicago Board of Trade.

He would trade stock for land, sell and resell. I remember one deal which was very successful; he traded stock for some land up near Joliet and made thousands on the deal.

HOPE TO HURDLE LEGAL BARRIERS TO FIGHT FILMS

Promoters Plan to Pay
Fine and Show Them.

Only a decision of District Attorney Edwin A. Olson to press conspiracy charges against Jack Dempsey, his manager, Jack Kearns, and James J. McGrath, promoter and manager of Municipal pier concessions during the Thompson régime, can prevent exhibition of the Dempsey-Gibbons fight films in Chicago theaters within a week, it was said last night.

Plans to show the pictures Wednesday night went awry, it was revealed yesterday, when Louis Piquett, former Thompson city prosecutor, failed in his attempt to get a permit for the exhibition from Mrs. Amy Louise Adams, chairman of the local board of censors.

When neither Mayor Dever nor Chief of Police Collins would consent to overrule Mrs. Adams' decision against the film, McGrath followed the precedent established by Tex Rickard with the Dempsey-Carpenter picture a year ago and surrendered himself to federal authorities on a charge of illegal transportation of the pictures.

Proposed to Pay $1,000 Fine.

As soon as the sitting federal grand jury can return an indictment against him, McGrath, it is said, will appear before a judge to plead guilty and pay the expected $1,000 fine, which will permit him to exhibit the film in Chicago. To prevent interference with the plan, McGrath's attorney, Col. John V. Glavin, announced he will seek an injunction against the city before Judge Harry M. Fisher today.

Before McGrath and Piquett sought the permit from Mrs. Adams, District Attorney Olson says, he was besieged with inquiries as to his probable course should the promoters exhibit the picture, submit to arrest by federal officers, and pay the $1,000 fine. Notwithstanding Mr. Olson's threat to lodge conspiracy charges against all concerned, Piquett attempted to secure approval of the censorship board.

Piquett left the federal building with McGrath and telephoned Mrs. Adams, who agreed to view "about fifty minutes of boxing pictures." Films censored by the board must be registered and when Piquett appeared with the reels Mrs. Adams asked, "What name? Whose make? Mere formality, you know?"

"O. J. call it a boxing picture," Piquett is said to have replied. "Nothing to it at all. Meet Mr. James J. McGrath." Well known city hall politicians and sportsmen crowded into the darkroom behind Piquett and Mrs. Adams to see the pictures. It was scarcely started, Mrs. Adams says, when she directed it to be stopped and asked Piquett: "Isn't that Jack Dempsey?"

"Why, no, that's just some second rate," she quotes Piquett. "Don't you think I know Jack Dempsey when I see his picture?" demanded Mrs. Adams. "These are the pictures of the Dempsey-Gibbons fight and I am in honor bound to notify

"No necessity of doing that at all. I've seen them and everything is all right," Piquett said, according to Mrs. Adams.

In the meantime McGrath and the film disappeared from the room and Piquett went to the mayor's office to secure an order directing the issuance of a permit. Chief Collins refused to interfere until Corporation Counsel Busch had ruled.

"I'm anxious to see those pictures myself if I can attend the show knowing that every law has been complied with and none violated," Mayor Dever said, "but I am informed that these films were surreptitiously brought into Chicago. It is not proper that the city should sanction the violation of law by speculators."

POLICE FAIL TO FIND TRACE OF STOLEN PAINTING

Sacramento, Cal., Aug. 30. — Although accepting the theory that the person who stole "The Entombment of Christ," a priceless painting by Guido Reni, from the E. B. Crocker Art gallery here last Saturday, knows art and recognized the value of the masterpiece, the police declared today that their investigation has not revealed any definite clues.

The manner in which the painting was removed from the wall of the gallery indicates, according to the police, that the thief was familiar with pictures and picture mounting. The gold frame containing the canvas was unwaxed from the wall, the panel on which the canvas was mounted torn from the frame, and the frame then replaced. The painting is only eight by ten inches.

Anticipating that the picture might be offered for sale, W. F. Jackson, curator of the gallery, sent out notifications of the theft and descriptions of the picture to all recognized museums and art dealers.

DOCTORS STRIVE TO SAVE YOUTH SHOT BY MOTHER

While physicians last night were attempting to extract from the neck of Demo Simis, 19 years old, the bullet fired by his mother, Mrs. Rose Simis, to "save his soul from crime," the mother was booked at Hudson avenue police station on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

The boy's recovery, the doctors say, depends upon the success of the operation. Lieut. James Mueller explained that he had desisted thus far from placing any charge against Mrs. Simis pending outcome of the effects of the wound. Several relatives are making efforts to gain the release of Mrs. Simis on bonds.

Policeman's Condition Grave. Meanwhile Policeman Teddy Groark, shot by his 15 year old son, Martin, is fighting for his life in Alexian Brothers hospital. Physicians considered his condition hopeful.

At the Juvenile Detention home Martin made a full confession. He said he did it because "Dad bawled out mother and beat her and tried to kill my brother, Pat." The latter, who is 13 and a sophomore at Loyola university, told how Martin fired in the midst of a hand to hand battle between him and his father. Groark also talked a bit.

"I don't see why one of the boys shot me," he said. "I think that gun went off accidentally, any way."

"My boys are good kids, but just a little too know it all. Now there's Pat. He's been loafing around too late nights. Why can't a father chastise his kids if he wants to? The best of 'em need it once in a while, don't they?"

Wants to Be a Sheikh.

Young Simis, victim of his mother's bullet, awaited his operation in the same hospital where the policeman lies. "I want to be a sheik. I like the girls and women," he said. "But my trouble is I'm bashful."

SOVIET FINANCES BEST IN EUROPE, A. B. FALL SAYS

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.) RIGA, Aug. 30.—The financial condition of soviet Russia is the most stable of any country in Europe, according to former Senator Albert B. Fall of New Mexico, who is optimistic regarding the future of the bolshevik state, according to a lengthy interview published in the soviet newspaper "Gudok," meaning factory whistle.

Mr. Fall is also reported as saying that Russia at present occupies a dominant position in Europe and that within a few years Latvia, Lithuania, and Estonia will request to be re-annexed to Russia.

This report is ridiculed by the Baltic press, which says Mr. Fall undoubtedly was misquoted by the bolsheviks.

Wife Identifies Body of Man Taken from Lake

The body of a man taken from the lake near the South Shore Country club on Wednesday was identified yesterday by Mrs. Marie Pigne, 6431 South LaSalle street, as that of her husband, Joseph B. Pigne, 44 years old. Mrs. Pigne discounted the police theory of suicide, stating that her husband had been subject to fainting fits recently and that he had probably fainted while strutting along the edge of the lake and fallen in.

CLAIMS FRANCE GOT WAR PLANE U. S. REJECTED

That the United States government was offered the plans for the new torpedo airplane recently tried out by the French government and turned them down, is the claim of E. J. S. Halvorsen, a mechanical engineer employed by the Western Electric company in Chicago. The new plane was described in France as the deadliest engine of war yet developed and is claimed to render dreadnaughts useless.

According to Mr. Halvorsen, he first offered the plans to the United States and then to France. He submits letters from both the American and French governments acknowledging receipt of his plans. The American government returned them, but the French kept them and developed their new plane according to his ideas, he says, but failed either to remunerate him or credit him with the invention.

The plane is designed to be operated without a pilot, a mechanism being set which will cause it to stop at any desired distance. When it reaches its object it automatically releases huge torpedoes designed to sink the largest battleship.

Land Value Doubles in Less Than Two Years

Lots which sold for $40 per foot a little over one year ago have resold within the past month for $75 per foot. Houses costing from $16,000 to $45,000 are being built in many sections of this wonderful property. The Subdivision is the marvel of all Chicago. We invite Real Estate men, home-seekers and investors to visit us Saturday, Sunday and Monday.

We are proud of our many beautiful homes. Ask our representatives to show you through some of the homes already furnished as well as those in the course of construction. Herbert H. Riddle, the Subdivision architect, has made a special study of the property and has worked out a wonderful housing scheme. Individual artistic plans are made for each house.

As a special inducement, for three days we will sell three lots on Hoyne Avenue and three on Hamilton Avenue at a reduced price—a reduction on each lot equal to a half year's payment. Very remarkable terms. A deposit must accompany each selection of lots. Only one lot to a customer. All lots carry our restrictions and improvements.

DEATHS BLAMED ON POLICE LACK OF AMBULANCES

Doctors Forced to Rely on Patrol Wagons.

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

The police department ambulance service has dwindled to zero during the last year and a half. While New York has more than one hundred ambulances, manned by physicians and paramedics, for emergency work among the poor, the Chicago department has reduced its ambulance service to a few patrol wagons and has put the police surgeons at the mercy of the patrol wagons.

The department of police surgeons has thirty-two men on the pay roll, including the chief surgeon, Dr. George Hunt. Since the ambulances disappeared they have turned more and more to the job of taking care of the police force itself, instead of serving the unfortunate. Their pay is far from munificent, $143 a month after the pension item is deducted. They are supposed to add to this by private practice, but few have found this practical. Dr. Hunt gets $3,699 a year.

Curator's Office Bares Need.
Under the present arrangement an emergency call may come in to the police for a doctor. If the patrol wagon is out the doctor cannot respond. Thus is the issue of life and death settled in many a case. A glance at the coroner's records for the last three months gives an idea of the need of an efficient police ambulance service. This is a record of a few deaths:

May 3—Rebecca Carroll, 3317 South State street, died in an ambulance en route to Cook county hospital from internal hemorrhage due to rupture.

May 8—George Hathorne died in the South district police patrol on way to hospital, shock and internal hemorrhage, due to bullet wound.

May 14—Paul Memhold, 1383 Devon avenue, died in thirty-fourth district police ambulance en route to hospital, shock and injuries received in automobile accident.

May 14—Sherman Hooper, 3894 South State street, died in police patrol en route to Provident hospital; fractured skull.

May 15—Baby of Della Desinker, 4445 South Shore drive, died from asphyxia at usual care required essential to preserve life of child at birth.

May 21—Henry Berry, 3553 Cottage Grove avenue, died in cell 3 of 2-A district police station; due to poisonous action of alcohol.

May 15—Eula Lee Patterson, 214 East 113th street, died in police patrol; stroke by train.

June 1—Lee Knoll, died in automobile en route to hospital from hemorrhage due to wound in throat inflicted by pocket knife which he used in open cell of Ninth district police station while waiting for police to take him to county hospital.

June 4—Virginia Klam, died in police auto en route to doctor's office.

AS SARGENT LOVED HER

MARY ANDERSON.

This picture of America's great actress was taken at the height of her career, when she was the most popular stage star in the United States and when Franklin H. Sargent, her dramatic teacher, lost his heart to her.

from injuries received in street car accident.

June 5—Baby of Josephine Brampa, died in bedroom back of restaurant; absence at time of birth of care necessary to preserve life.

June 14—L. E. Peterson, died in Twenty-second district police patrol en route to hospital; assaulted and thrown from stairway.

June 12—Michael Ogiglio, 1610 Otto boulevard, hanged self in cell at Chicago Heights jail.

37 Deaths En Route to Hospitals.
In all there were thirty-seven deaths during this period in police patrols or other automobiles en route to hospitals. Two were traced to the effect of liquor. Some of these might have been saved had there been a police doctor and fast ambulance on the job.

Contagious disease cases are transferred by the health department. Health Commissioner Burdosen is of the opinion that a police ambulance service is essential in Chicago. The health department, he says, can take care of the sick and injured police, just as they do the firemen.

Just now there seems to be a shortage of medical supplies in some police stations. Such items as adhesive tape and material for sewing wounds are not available in some of the doctors' quarters. There is a shortage in the fund for these supplies. They are handled by Dr. Hunt and supposedly available on requisition by the surgeons.

MAYOR URGES POLICE BLDG.

Half a million dollars and three conveniently located sites in or near the loop are available for a combined police headquarters and Municipal Courts building, Mayor Dever told Chief of Police Collins, Corporation Counsel Busch, and Ald. Ross Woodhull of the council finance committee yesterday.

The council at its next meeting on Oct. 17 will be urged to approve the mayor's plan to centralize police and courts in one building, abandoning the buildings now occupied by the First precinct, detective bureau, and South Clark street station details, which the health department recently condemned as insanitary.

Both the mayor and Chief Collins favor erecting a building on property owned by the city at 1121 South State street, now occupied by an old barn. Other sites suggested are one on North Market street, between Randolph street and the river, and another on West Madison street, between the river and the C. M. & St. Paul railroad tracks.

SARGENT'S HEART BEAT ONLY FOR MARY ANDERSON

Belasco Bares Story of Self-Slain Teacher.

New York, Aug. 29.—A romance in real life was revealed today by David Belasco around the career of his friend, Franklin H. Sargent, teacher of dramatic art, whose body was being borne to New York from Flatburgh, where last Tuesday he sent a bullet crashing into his brain.

Crowned by financial and artistic success, Sargent faced the greatest year of his life. But this success could not make up for the one great failure of his life—the loss of the love of Mary Anderson, the great actress, whose tutor he had been.

Three times, said Belasco, his friend had attempted to end his life after a rift had separated him from his beloved pupil and she had become the wife of Antonio Fernando de Navarro. The fourth time he succeeded.

Belasco Knew the Secret.

Behind him he left no hint of the motive which had caused him to end his life. But Belasco knew.

Here is the story that Belasco, the weaver of beautiful dreams, tells: "Franklin Sargent, one of the most lovable men I have ever met, has ended it all. His secret sorrow finally bore him down until its mirage obliterated all that should have been and could have been happiness in the life of this great man."

"Long years ago, Franklin Sargent met and loved Mary Anderson, the actress. Always she would look lovingly at him and repeat that she owed her great success to him. They loved. Sargent then seemed gloriously happy."

His Dream at an End.

"Then came the rift. They separated, never, as far as I know, to see each other again. Mary Anderson married. Her name was changed to Mme. Antonio de Navarro."

"Sargent prospered, gained the love of friends—a very few friends, by the way, for he fraternized little—and became one of the most highly respected men in the theatrical profession."

"But always, far back of those big, sad eyes of his, deep down in his heart and soul, there lurked that hidden sorrow that followed him shadowlike through all the years, making him sad when he should have been happy, and blotting out all the sunshine."

"Mary Anderson, when first Franklin Sargent saw her, was stateliness beautiful. She was chosen to play the parts into which she best fitted—Juliet, for instance. For such parts she needed schooling, a training in the Delarue method, and Sargent took hold of her and molded her into the wonderful actress that she became."

"He smiled then; real smiles, too. But tragedy settled over him when Mary Anderson went out of his life, and since then he had always been sad, morose."

IDENTITY OF MAN POSING AS YOUNG CRANE A MYSTERY

Grocer Who Got Bad Check "Puzzled."

A day's activity yesterday on the part of the police failed to turn up a clue as to the whereabouts, or a proof of the identity, of the mystery roomer in the home of Mrs. Susan Cramer, 2223 Ogood street, who is being sought on a bad check charge.

After a conference at her home with Valentine Crane, brother of Herbert P. Crane Jr., under whose name the strange roomer passed, Mrs. Cramer expressed herself as being "all mixed up," and said there was nothing further she could say.

Grocery Man All Mixed Up.

John Adam, a grocery man at 2101 Ogood street, complainant in the case, who was present at the conference, also declared himself "more and more puzzled all the time."

Valentine Crane first drove to the Hudson avenue police station to pick up Detective Sergeant August Hasselmann, assigned to the case. Then he met Mr. Adam at the grocery, and the party, including an attorney retained by Mr. Crane, drove to the Cramer home.

Before the home was reached, Attorney Frederick A. Bangs announced he had received a telegram from H. P. Crane Jr. from Dallas, Tex. The wire read: "Charles of which you inform me are utterly false and impossible. Have been visiting friends here since April 23."

Would Clear Brother.

The ostensible purpose of Valentine Crane's activity in the case was to bring about the arrest of the man who posed as his brother, at Mrs. Cramer's and as S. E. Crane at Adam's store.

"If they would bring Herbert P. Crane to me and let me see him, that would at least clear up that much," said Mr. Adam.

Mrs. Cramer, a divorcee, said that the young man she knew as Crane had merely been a roomer in her flat and denied reports that they were engaged. When shown a photograph of Crane she was not sure whether or not it was a photo of the roomer.

CITY CANCELS FAHERTY'S PET SEWER CONTRACT

Holds Company Slow on Broadway Project.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The Broadway sewer contract, which caused so much trouble at the end of the Thompson city administration, was canceled yesterday. This is the first time that the city has ever canceled a contract of this kind. The contract was awarded to the White Construction Co., of which Michael Faherty is the head, and with which a son of Faherty was connected. Faherty and H. B. Dwyer, secretary of the White concern, were recently indicted in connection with the improving of Michigan boulevard on another contract.

The original Broadway sewer, about five miles long, provided for brick construction. President John J. Sloan of the board of local improvements estimated yesterday this would take about eight years to build. To pay for it there was a net assessment of $1,700,000, but the contract, canceled yesterday, contemplated an expenditure of $1,385,500.

Ties to Add to Cost.

The affected property owners agreed to the construction of the sewer on the understanding that it would cost about $1,700,000. Then Faherty proposed to make a supplemental agreement of $70,000. On that the council committee on streets and alleys held a public hearing and protesting property owners crowded the council chamber. Aid. Wallace led the opposition as prevailed upon the committee to turn Faherty down.

But he awarded the contract anyway to the White company, with the Southern Surety company as surety. The present board of local improvements holds that White was obligated to begin work Nov. 7 last and continue it regularly and uninterruptedly until completion, the date for which is fixed in the contract as Dec. 1, 1924. Because of the failure of the board voted to rescind the contract and Mayor Dever signed the formal notice of cancellation. Insanitary garbage conditions in the alley in the rear of his business office, 536 Davis street, Evanston. Another charge against Bowman of maintaining insanitary garbage conditions in the rear of his home was dismissed by Justice Boyer because of insufficient evidence. Bowman paid the fine.

Proposes to Use Concrete.

Although they are paid $20 a day, it is not enough bricklayers can be obtained to construct this sewer in less than eight years," commented Mr. Sloan. "I believe we can build it of concrete for about $1,750,000 and we shall ask for bids for concrete. At Lawrence avenue the sewer will be ten feet in diameter and three feet at Arlington street."

Established this rate of speed, it is necessary to prevent the possibility of avoidable accidents? Undergo a practical examination of the vehicle. Make a charge for a practical test. If barriers and plans are to be tested as to their professional abilities, why use the speed limit?

Organize a school for safe driving. This course not only for automobile but for our police officers, who in their own knowledge very little about what constitutes safe driving, or really don't know about arresting any one except the one who is supposed to be exceeding the speed limit.

Reduce the number of motorcycles on nonboulevard streets. Blowing automobiles are a nuisance. Whenever you should sound your horn you should slow up so that you can immediately. One of the first things asked in court is, "Did you sound your horn?" That in itself shows it was necessary to blow your horn to warn some one, you had not under complete control, but you were not.

Let all agencies get together and make a set of general traffic rules. Judges quit some of their playground and we can reduce the number of auto accidents with increasing toll of innocent lives.

Harding Friend to Quit

F. E. SCOOPY.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 30.—F. E. Scooby of San Antonio, Tex., director of the mint and close personal friend of the late President Harding, has asked President Coolidge to permit him to retire to private life. It was said at the White House today Mr. Coolidge had accepted reluctantly to the request. Mr. Scooby has asked to be relieved of his duties Oct. 1, and plans to return to Texas where he was the guest of Mr. Scooby and of R. B. Creager.

POLITICS BARRED FROM AFFAIRS OF CHICAGO ZOO

Committee O. K.'s Pact to Go Before Voters.

Elimination of politics from the building and maintenance of the Chicago Zoological park, near Riverside, was accomplished in a contract approved unanimously yesterday by the zoo committee of the forest preserve district. The contract is to be submitted to the county board on next Thursday. In view of the attitude of the commissioners yesterday, it is not expected any opposition will be met. The contract is to run for twenty-five years.

Members of the Chicago Zoological society, under whose absolute control under terms of the contract the zoo will be built and maintained, discussed the matter with the members of the zoo committee of the board at yesterday's meeting.

Goos Up to Voters.

The contract becomes effective only upon the approval of the voters in November of a statute providing for a special tax of $500,000 annually for five years, and $250,000 annually thereafter, to be used for the construction, stocking with animals, and upkeep of the zoo.

The entire tax, as fast as it is collected, will be turned over to the zoological society, under the contract. Expenditures will be made at the sole discretion of the society.

Selection of Employees.

All employees in the erection and maintenance of the zoo will be under the entire control of the society, which shall have the sole power to promote or remove the employees. Promotions will be made strictly on the basis of the fitness and ability of men, under the contract.

The zoo will be open to the public without charge on at least three days each week, including Sundays and all legal holidays, and free on every day to school children. On other days the society will charge a fee of not more than 50 cents from adults and 25 cents from children, other than pupils.

Commissioners Frank J. Wilson, chairman, and Emmett Wheelan, Dudley D. Pierson, George A. Miller, Charles S. Peterson, and Frederick W. Penfield, comprising the committee members present, voted in favor of entering into the contract.

Pay In, Not Out

WHEN you rent an apartment, you pay money out every month. You pay out enough to cover the necessary operating cost of your apartment; to cover losses due to vacancies and uncollectible rents, together with the costs of advertising, agency management, and excessive decorating and repairs; and to give your landlord a profit. At the end of each year you have a bundle of rent receipts to show for your payments instead of increased capital and borrowing power.

When you purchase an apartment home under The Andridge Co-operative Plan, you pay out only half as much for rent—just enough to cover necessary operating costs. A small part of the remainder you pay in to increase your equity in the property; the balance you may pay into your savings account. At the end of each year, you have a substantial increase in your own capital and borrowing power to show for your payments.

For example—

Suppose you rent a three-room apartment in THE ANDRIDGE, a new semi-fireproof building in much-sought Evanston, which enjoys exceptional transportation facilities and is conveniently near schools, shopping districts and recreation centers, you pay out $90.00 a month in rent or $540.00 in five years.

Under The Andridge Co-operative Plan

you invest $2400 to secure this same apartment—only $1200 before occupancy if you so desire—and $13.24 a month to retire first mortgage bonds on the building. At the end of five years you will have paid in enough to give your investment a book value of $3096.00. Meanwhile, you will have paid out less than $37 a month as your share of the operating expenses, or a total in five years of $2173.36.

Now figure your saving

When you rent, you pay out . . . . . $5400.00
When you own an Andridge Apartment, you pay out 2173.36
Your saving under The Andridge Plan is . . . . . $3226.64

More facts

about The Andridge Co-operative Plan and the three, four, five and six-room apartments in Evanston, Oak Park and the South Shore district which we are offering this autumn are given in booklets which will be mailed to you on request.

You can also see a sample of Andridge workmanship in the display apartment which is now open in THE ANDRIDGE, at the southeast corner of Ridge Boulevard and Church Street, Evanston. ### 3 INTOXICATED DRIVERS GIVEN BRIDEWELL TERM

Two More Persons Killed by Automobiles.

(Pictures on back page.) Long bridewell terms were imposed on three intoxicated motorists by Judge Henry M. Walker in the Speedy court yesterday, as two more persons died in automobile accidents, bringing the total number of motor deaths in Cook county since Jan. 1 to 442.

George Glass, 44 North Long avenue, was sentenced to two months imprisonment in the House of Correction, the maximum term, and fined $100 and costs on a charge of driving while intoxicated. His automobile crashed into two other automobiles at Jackson boulevard and Rockwell street.

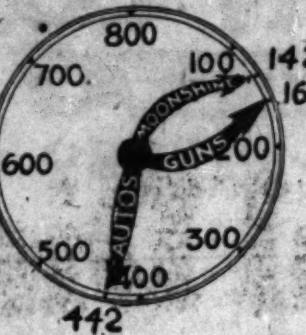

Two other men, arraigned on the same charge, were each sentenced to serve one month in the Bridewell and to pay fines of $50 and costs. They are Howard Eger, 7434 S. Halsted, and Morris Costello, 4510 South Sangamon street. Costello's companion, Florentine Travina, 1246 South Washington avenue, who was also intoxicated, was fined $100 and costs.

H. R. Gross, 1100 Ridge boulevard, was fined $100 and costs for speeding in an attempt to escape from motorcycle policemen. A number of other heavy fines were assessed.

Crushed to Death. Crushed between his delivery wagon and a taxicab at Clark and Adams street yesterday, Thomas Bartley, 30 years old, 223 West Ontario street, was instantly killed. He stepped from the hub of the wagon, from which he had been delivering telephone directories, and was struck by the cab, driven by Benjamin Dipuma, 1616 Cambridge avenue. Dipuma is being held pending the inquest.

Mrs. Nancy Green, colored, 89 years old, 4543 Prairie avenue, was fatally injured when struck by an automobile driven by H. S. Seymour, colored, 4735 Prairie avenue. Rounding a corner at high speed, John M. McCarthy, 1242 West 64th street, yesterday drove his automobile into two women, each wheeling baby carriages, and seriously injured Mrs. Julia Dwyer, 1452 West 63d street. Mrs. Amelia Snyder, 6159 Laflin street, was her companion. She and her baby were unhurt. McCarthy told the police, who have charged him with assault, that he had not observed the woman. He denied that he had been speeding. He took both women and their children to the Englewood hospital and then reported to the police.

The owner of the automobile that was driven into a ditch at Turner avenue and West 95th street, pinning John Kirk, 13 years old, 6532 South Rockwell street, beneath it, is sought by the police. The boy accepted a ride, he said, and when the car overturned the driver ran away. Witnesses rescued the boy, who was only slightly bruised.

Walter Ligman, 18 years old, of Chicago died in the Highland Park hospital yesterday of injuries sustained when he was knocked from his bicycle by a truck driven by Albert Johnson, Fond du Lac, Wis.

ADLER AND NEGRO EACH FINED $100 FOR "GUN TOTING"

Cyrus Adler, 34 year old son of Max Adler, vice president of Sears, Roebuck & Co., and Allen Lincoln, 70 years old, a delegate attending the colored Elks convention from Minneapolis, were each fined $100 and costs by Judge Samuel H. Truitt in the Englewood court yesterday on charges of carrying concealed weapons. The court remarked he saw no reason why young Adler should be treated differently from the Negro defendant who had preceded him. The fact that he carried a personal staff issued by Chief Bailiff Dennis Egan, the court held, did not entitle him to carry a revolver.

The charge grew out of an incident last Saturday night when Adler drew the gun to defend himself against relatives of Miss Sylvia Wager, 15 years old, whom he was accused of attacking. Relatives of the girl failed to prosecute on the more serious charge.

DE VALERA PARTY CREEPING UP IN IRISH ELECTIONS

BY HUGH CURRAN.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)

(Copyright 1923 by The Chicago Tribune.)

DUBLIN, Aug. 29.—(Tribune Radio.)

The results of the election to the new Irish parliament tonight showed a notable advance by the Republican with a debacle for the Farmer and Labor parties. The government holds forty-one seats, while the Republicans have jumped to twenty-eight. The Farmer figure is eight, Labor nine, and Independent, fourteen. One hundred seats are now declared, with fifty-three to go. If the same ratio prevails the government will have a good working majority. All the ministers have been elected.

Among the victories announced for the Republicans today was that of Dan Breen of Tipperary. Mr. Breen, a Republican army officer who was captured and imprisoned by the Free

State, is a former Chicago man. Ernest O'Malley, a well known Dublin fighter, also in jail, was returned from North Dublin with Sean T. O'Kelly, who followed Eamon de Valera on the treaty split.

Mulcahy Kils Wins.

Dr. Ryan of Wexford, brother-in-law of Richard Mulcahy, minister of defense, was returned by the Republicans from Wexford, with Frank Carthy, another fighter, for Sligo and Leitrim, and Dr. Kathleen Lynn for County Dublin.

Among the government candidates elected were Mr. McCabe, from Sligo and Leitrim, recently retired from the army, and Gratian Esmond, son of Senator Sir Thomas Esmond of Wexford.

Labor Makes Poor Showing.

Labor returned little new blood. It is a remarkable fact that Dublin city and county returned but one Labor man, Tom Johnson, Dail Labor leader. He won by a narrow margin. Two candidates supported by Jim Larkin were defeated.

The Farmer party probably will have the same number as they had in the last Dail, but as they expected fully thirty-five, there is much disappointment.

Capt. Patrick J. Lavin, formerly in command of the Central police district, left an estate of approximately $100,000, according to an inventory approved yesterday by Assistant Probate Judge Harry G. Keats. The estate, most of which is in stocks and bonds, will be divided between Lavin's widow, Mrs. Ellen Lavin, 5411 Hyde Park boulevard, and four children. Capt. Lavin left no will.

Frady Faces Arrest for Ignoring Court Order

Judge Harry M. Fisher yesterday issued a warrant for the arrest of George Henry Frady when he failed to appear in response to a citation for contempt of court issued when Frady's divorced wife, Mrs. Carrie Frady, 2044 Lake Park avenue, complained that he was behind in alimony and asked the custody of their children.

CHINESE BANDITS SLAY TWO BRITISH CHURCH WORKERS

Peking Refuses to Grant
Allies' Demands.

BULLETIN.
SHANGHAI, Aug. 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Rev. E. A. Whitfield and the Rev. F. G. Watt, British missionaries of the Church Missionary society, were shot and killed by bandits Aug. 14 when traveling in Szechwan province, according to a letter from Mieschow received heretofore.

BY CHARLES DAILEY.
(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
TIENTSIN, Aug. 30.—The clique dominating the Chihli party, which controls the Peking government, has refused the request of all the foreign nations' demands on China for the Chinese incident in which bandits had slain two British missionaries and kidnapped a number of foreigners, including J. B. Smoot, a member of the House of Representatives of the United States.

The clique also demands that the indemnity be cut in half. Students' unions and numerous provincial assemblies have taken similar action. The Peking government, however, has refused the refusal of the government to dismiss the tutelage of Peking at foreign dictation.

The present cabinet still and its tenure before it is possible to complete the negotiations, since the powers are widely apart on the new representation in which the British agitation for foreign financial control and the place of the railways under foreign supervision is certain of failure owing to the determined American and Japanese opposition.

Disparaging efforts are being made to induce parliament to assemble next week for the election of Tsao Kun as president, but fewer than a half the members arrived, although $900 was offered for each presidential vote, with other compensation and expenses for the supposed work of drafting the constitution.

Military Situation Bad.
All efforts by the Chinese to clear up their financial situation have failed, with virtually nothing available for administration expenses. As a result of this further strikes and demonstrations within the next thirty days are predicted. The military outlook is equally grim. The Peking government has been a costly failure, with his troops now evacuating Chungking. A new revolt has occurred in Hunan province, where a government has been established in Tientsin in opposition to the Shanghai administration.

Sun Yat-sen has lost control in Canton city to the Yunnanese troops whom he enlisted in his army. These troops have looted and have put the city in the hands of "thoroughly elements." With the loss of these foreign powers realizing the impossibility of international control, the situation must drift into a revolution, when the Chinese themselves may ask foreign cooperation.

Family Will Send to U. S.
Princess Anastasia's Body
LONDON, Aug. 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—The family of the late Princess Anastasia of Greece, formerly Mrs. William B. Leedes, who died last night, was making plans today to send the body to New York.

WHY "PESKY SKEETER" IS SO NUMEROUS AND RAVENOUS JUST NOW

BY SELBY MAXWELL.
Mosquitoes have become such pests in all open places about Chicago that one cannot walk in the woods or fields, even at noon, without being bitten. They are unusually bloodthirsty, and are more persistent than usual. They are so thick because their natural enemies have failed.

Mosquitoes are kept in check by two groups of animals, insect eating birds and spiders. Both are rare around here now, and the culex consequently are thriving.

Until three weeks ago the climate around Chicago was unusually dry, so that the mosquitoes' breeding places were unfit for them. A mosquito likes a quiet, stagnant pool, and eagerly seeks out drains and puddles. But when there were no puddles, the gnats were forced to hibernate temporarily and lodge some of their activity.

When the mosquitoes were all in hiding, the birds and spiders could not find enough to eat. The former flew away in disgust, and the latter starved to death in great numbers. You will recall that there are few spiders this year compared with last.

Three weeks ago there were heavy rains, the first for several months. The puddles were filled. The mosquitoes came out of retirement and went to the waters in clouds to lay their eggs. Then came the hatch, then schools of wigglers, and now hosts of hungry buzzards, eager to make up for lost time.

LEVY ON LUXURY SMOOT PROGRAM, SALES TAX DEAD

Would Exempt Farmers
Up to $6,000.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Sept. 30.—A tax on luxuries and extravagant purchases is the purpose of an expenditure tax which is being prepared by United States Senator Reed Smoot (Rep., Utah) to be presented to the next session of congress as a substitute for the proposed sales tax.

Senator Smoot, in explaining the provisions of the new tax said that all farmers' sales up to $6,000 would be exempt. Cheap commodities, such as a $2.50 pair of shoes or an inexpensive automobile would not be taxed, but expensive purchases, such as a $2,500 automobile or a $7.50 pair of shoes, will be taxable at the rate of 1 1/2 per cent.

The sales tax, which caused considerable debate at the last session of congress, will not be revived, Senator Smoot said. "In its place will be proposed the expenditure tax, which I think will be more serviceable and cause less opposition. I do not expect any opposition from the farmers."

A man who can buy a $2,500 automobile can afford to pay a tax on his purchase, Senator Smoot said. "It is for that reason that the tax is to be drawn upon a graduated scale. Inexpensive purchases will be taxed very little, while expensive purchases will draw a heavier rate. The tax on a $500 purchase will amount to $2.50 under the provisions of the proposed measure."

Senator Smoot is a strong believer in the workability of a sales tax or the proposed expenditure tax. He explained that considerable opposition was made to similar taxation which it was proposed in Canada, but the opposition has vanished and farmers in the neighboring country on the north are now strong boosters for that form of taxation. In England, Germany, and countries of the European continent the sales or expenditure tax is being accepted as the most advisable measure.

BOOZE BANDITS GET MULCAHY'S RUM DIVIDEND

Nine armed robbers backed a truck up to a garage at 2413 West Monroe street yesterday afternoon, covered a watchman with pistols and departed with a large part of the "dividend" received by former Ald. Robert J. Mulcahy in the Grommes & Ullrich $200,000 "boone split." A checkup revealed that eighty cases, valued at about $15,000, had been taken. The former alderman is under indictment, together with former Prohibition Director Roscoe C. Andrews, and ten others, as a result of a "stock dividend" of the Grommes & Ullrich company, the "dividend" consisting of choice liquors.

London Bishop's Attack on Parks Roils Papers

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
LONDON, Aug. 30.—(Tribune Radio.)—The bishop of London has stirred up a hornet's nest in London newspapers today by alleging that the public parks in London are hotbeds of vice. "He says ten nights' observations in Hyde park by agents of private vigilance societies disclosed 756 cases of 'impropriety, indecency or immorality,' and ten nights in five other parks disclosed 2,615 cases."

"Social" Diseases Can and Must Be Stamped Out

In an address before the Legislature of Illinois last Spring, Dr. Bundesen said:

"We know the cause, we know the prevention and we know the cure of venereal diseases. Anybody can be cured if the disease is taken early enough and the treatment is complete enough."

Every person, man or woman, who has become infected with one of these diseases should realize not only that the disease can be cured but that treatment should not be delayed. Postponement will result only in allowing the disease to tighten its grip. The victims of certain very painful forms of rheumatism or of locomotor ataxia and many who are paralytic, insane or permanently broken in health are examples of the folly of waiting too long before taking treatment.

Those who have acquired venereal infections and neglect taking proper treatment are not only on the road to ruin themselves—they may take others with them, because these diseases are highly infectious.

And it is not sufficient to take treatment long enough only to cause the symptoms to disappear. As Dr. Bundesen says: "The treatment must be complete enough." The disease must actually be banished or will continue its damaging progress. Since the Public Health Institute began its fight against "social" diseases about three years ago it has helped thousands to regain permanent health and efficiency. It is now giving more than 800 treatments daily.

The Institute maintains a staff of experienced physicians; it has splendidly equipped laboratories; it uses the most advanced methods developed by medical science in combating venereal infections; and its offices are arranged to give every patient skilled treatment in the utmost possible privacy.

There is no reason why anyone should continue to suffer with a "social" disease when an organization like this offers treatment of the highest medical standard at very moderate fees—the same charge to all.

Anybody can come here with a feeling of confidence, as the Institute was organized by well known business men, not for profit, but to render a greatly needed service.

If you—the reader—need this service, or if you have a friend who needs it, come or urge your friend to come for a diagnosis. Our physicians will tell you exactly what the condition is, and treatment best adapted to the case will be given.

Gas is cheaper

Reduced rates for Industrial Users

August first was an important day for Chicago manufacturers. It marked the establishment of reduced rates for gas which open up new opportunities for better and more economical operation. This new rate schedule is scientifically constructed—the more gas you use, the lower the cost. That is why every day sees more manufacturers cutting costs through the use of this money-saving, modern industrial fuel.

YACHT FLEET OFF TONIGHT IN RACE TO OTTAWA BEACH

HE MADE THE BET, HE LOST THE RACE.

YEP, HE'S GOT TO PROPOSE!

HELLO! MERINGUE 1666? IS THIS YOU PHYLLIS? HOW ARE YOU?

SO AM I. BY THE WAY, THERE'S A LITTLE MATTER I'VE BEEN INTENDING TO SPEAK TO YOU ABOUT. YOU KNOW I'VE BEEN LONESOME FOR SOME TIME, PHYLLIS.

WELL, I WAS JUST WONDERING IF YOU AND I COULDN'T KITCH UP— GET MARRIED I MEAN— WHAT'S THAT?—YOU'RE ALREADY ENGAGED?—THAT'S TOO BAD. I'LL CALL AGAIN.

LOOK HERE! YOU CAN'T SLIP THAT OVER! FELLAS, HE'S GOT HIS FINGER ON THE LEVER. IT WAS ALL A BLUFF!

This will be the last cruising race of the season and a hot contest should result in the schooner, 35-foot sloop, O and R classes. Donald Porter, sailing Intrepid, will be pitted against J. G. Glavin, skipper of the schooner. In the manner in which these two F races fought every foot of the 33 1/2 mile course to Mackinac Island, insures the hottest kind of a fight throughout the race around the lake.

Lariken, which has been away from local waters for several years, will hook up with Eddie Schnabel's big sloop Seaboomer in the thirty-five mile sloop class. Lariken's performance should give the schooner a good idea as to whether Lariken has lost any of its former speed.

DECIDE TITLE OF JUNIORS TODAY

A. A. U. MEET

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

The National A. A. U. championship, America's blue ribbon track and field classic, will open on Stag field under the auspices of the Illinois A. C. today when champions in the junior division consisting of twenty-two events will be determined.

The event, the greatest of its kind ever held in Chicago, has attracted the cream of the athletic world from coast to coast and winners of first place in the various events are practically assured places on the American team which will compete in the Olympic games in France next year.

Included in the galaxy of stars are the world's American and intercollegiate record holders and with such a field sterling performances may be expected with the consequent shattering of records, some of which have withstood the tests of years. American title holders will clash with intercollegiate champions to determine national supremacy and the right to compete on the Yankee team in France next summer.

Representing America's Best.

Included in the list of competitors are men who have established enviable records and who can be expected to come through in their respective events regardless of the caliber of competition.

No one will dispute the ability of Pat McDonald and Matt McGrath, the weight men of the New York A. C. team. They have been members of past American Olympic teams and are certain to score points in their specialties. In addition to this pair of stars, the Mercury Foot club will be represented by London, present Olympic champion in the running high jump, and Brown of Dartmouth in the same event.

Halfback at Penn State, present holder of the national title in the half mile, will represent the New York A. C. In addition to being the American champion over the distance, Halfback is the eastern intercollegiate, national collegiate and metropolitan champion. The clash between Halfback and Ray Watson of the L. A. C. should be among the most interesting races of the three day meet.

Loren Murdock, of the Newark A. C., recognized as one of America's premier sprinters, will run in the senior dashes, while Johnny Murphy, the former Notre Dame high jumper, will represent the running high jump. LeGendre, the former Georgetown all-around athlete, in the running broad jump.

Fred Totola of Bowdoin, eastern intercollegiate and National Collegiate A. A. champion in the hammer throw, will represent the Boston A. A. in his event and will attempt to take the measure of McGrath of the New York A. C.

I. A. C. Favored for Title.

The Illinois A. C. team, developed by Coach Johnny Behr, is expected to carry off the honors in the senior division. With such redoubtable performers as John Ray, Harold Osborne, Ray Watson, Eddie Knourek, Ray Baker, Pope, Anderson, and others of proven ability, the tri-colored club should be in the running for honors from the start of the first event.

Charley Brookins, the versatile athlete of the University of Iowa, will try to lower his world record for the 220 yard low hurdles around one turn, while the Hawkeye relay team, composed of Brookins, Wilson, Noll, and Morrow, will make a great effort to win the one mile championship on Monday.

Bud Houser, the sensational weight man from the University of Southern California, is here to take the measure of McDonald in the shot put, while George Kronos of the Olympic club from San Francisco will run in the 120 yard high hurdles.

Pick Junior Champ Today.

The junior championships, composed of twenty-two events, will be held today. The first event, the 100 yard dash, will start at 9 o'clock and Eugene Goodville, formerly of the University high school, will be among the starters. The senior championships will be decided tomorrow, starting at the same hour. The decathlon or all-around relay championships and the four events for women will be held on Monday. Competition in the all-around will start at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Tickets are on sale at Spaulding's, Wilson's, and Marshall Field and Company. The price of admission on each day will be 15c.

MEYERS SURE HE CAN EASILY PIN GREEK TONIGHT

Johnny Meyers' recent declaration that he will, during the coming season, mow down every disputant to his championship claims will be put to the test tonight at the Star and Garter when he hooks up with Jimmy Demetral, Wisconsin Greek contender, in a two in three fall bout.

"In beating the Greek in short order," avers Johnny, "I have a double object. First to give this particular challenger the lacing I owe him for some of the cracks he has been making about me, and second to convince the fans that I am still as good as I ever was."

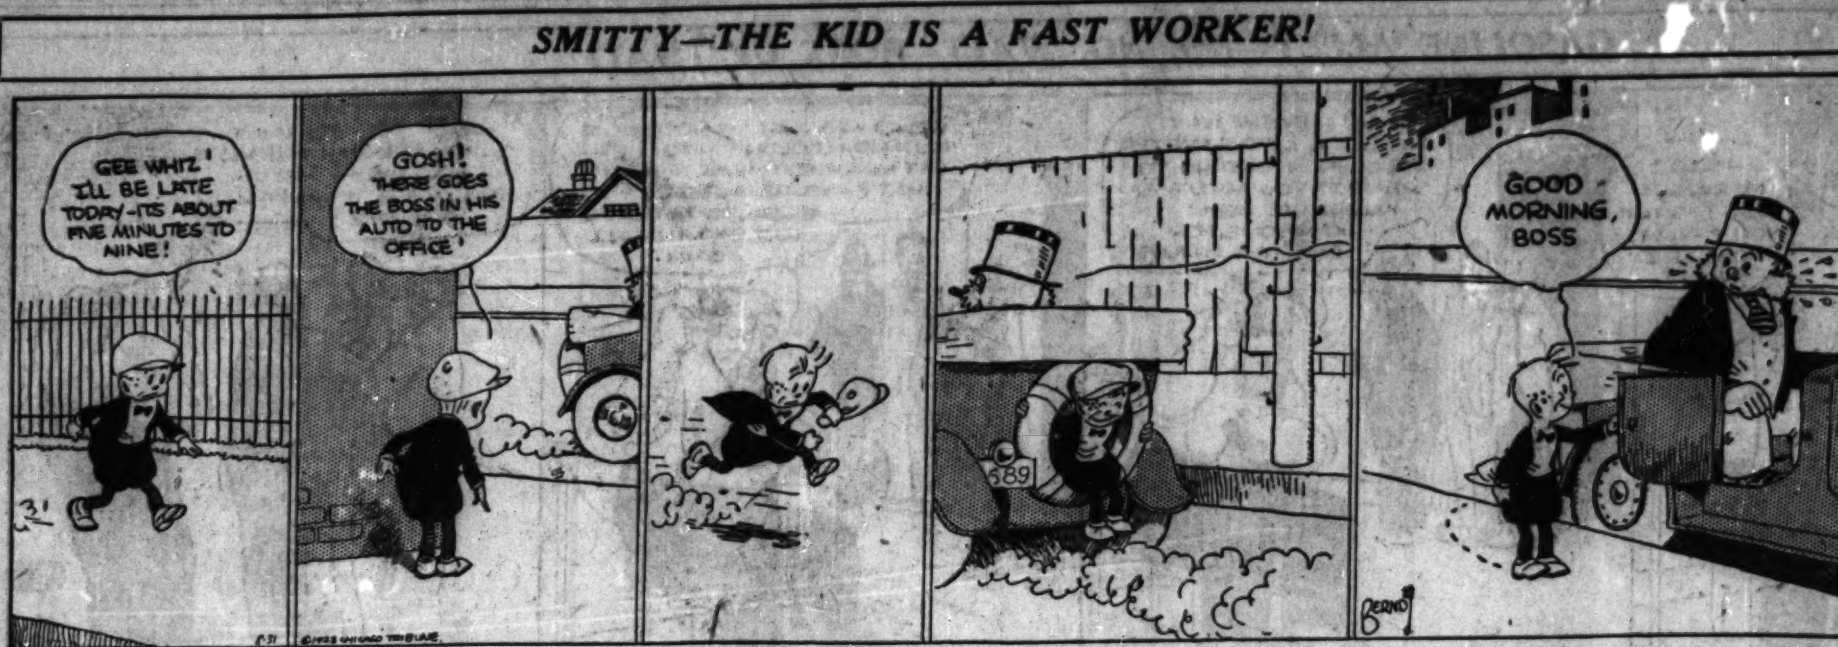

"I will beat Demetral as easily as I did Engel and Carr, and following this victory, I am ready to sign with Talbair, Furness, Jordan, Prehn and even Ketchum, who undoubtedly is the very best of them all."

FISHERMAN RACE DELAYED AGAIN

Gloucester, Mass., Aug. 30. — The fishermen's race for the Lipton trophy was declared a race today because of failure to finish within the time limits. The Henry Ford was two miles from the finish when the race was called off, with the Elizabeth Howard and the Shamrock far behind. The boats will race again tomorrow.

NEW JERSEY BARS JACK JOHNSON

Trenton, N. J., Aug. 30. — Jack Johnson, former one-hundred-and-thirty-five pound champion, will not be allowed to box in New Jersey, according to a decision announced today by State Boxing Commissioner Hughes, which forbids the proposed match between the Negro pugilist and Billy Mike of St. Paul, St. Louis, Sept. 10.

MARINE SETS WORLD'S RECORD WITH RIFLE

BY 200 HITS IN ROW

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 30. — Two hundred consecutive hits on a sixteen inch bullet target at 500 yards were scored today by Sgt. Edgar J. Doyle of the marine corps in the annual interservice shooting tournament at Seagriff, N. J., according to word received here. The score is believed to be a world's record for firing with any rifle, fitted with any sight, and at any range.

Each competitor had two sighting shots, after which he continued to fire as long as he hit the bullseye, dropping out of the competition when he failed to make a perfect shot.

Sgt. Doyle was declared winner, after all his competitors had dropped out, with an unfinished run of 100 hits. He was a member of the marine corps rifle team which won the national rifle team match last year.

LOCAL ATHLETES OFF TODAY FOR R. R. MEET

Chicago athletes, who hold the championship of the northwestern region of the Pennsylvania Railroad system, comprising the territory covered by the Pennsylvania in Michigan, Illinois, Ohio, and Indiana, will go to Grand Rapids, Mich., tomorrow to face 500 athletes from those states in the annual athletic meet. The greatest yearling of the running high jump, and LeGendre, the former Georgetown all-around athlete, in the running broad jump.

Fred Totola of Bowdoin, eastern intercollegiate and National Collegiate A. A. champion in the hammer throw, will represent the Boston A. A. in his event and will attempt to take the measure of McGrath of the New York A. C.

DEMPSEY MAKES SAD WRECK OF M'AUILLIFFE

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

White Sulphur Springs, N. Y., Aug. 30. — [Special.] — Jack Dempsey, heavy-weight boxer from Detroit, who has joined Jack McLaughlin's staff of sparring partners, had his initial experience with the champion this afternoon and wished he were back in Detroit or in a ring once more with Luis Angel Firpo. Jack stepped in to give the champion two rounds of rough work. When one round was over Mr. McLaughlin went back to the rubbing room for repairs, a badly damaged human punching bag.

In one round Dempsey closed McLaughlin's right eye, cut his left ear, and had him all but on the floor. In fact, it looked as if the champ held his opponent up in one instance and then held back his blows toward the finish of the one round.

Jack Advises Repairs.

When it was over the champion stepped over to McLaughlin and advised he quit for the day and get his eye and ear mended.

Then the champion stepped at a merry pace for two rounds with Jack Burke, paying more attention to defense than attack except on one occasion, when he knocked Mr. Burke almost through the ropes.

When seen in the rubbing room after his rough experience, McLaughlin talked right up and declared Dempsey a hundred per cent better man than Luis Firpo, whom the champ is to battle in New York on Sept. 14.

"I'll be surprised if Firpo ever comes out for the second round," was the way McLaughlin talked, and it must be remembered that the Detroit heavyweight knows a bit about the Argentine ruffian, for he fought him last May and took the count in the third round.

Hits Harder Than Luis.

"Does Dempsey hit as hard as Firpo?" he was asked.

"Harder," was his ready answer. "I never stood up in front of this fellow Dempsey before, but it didn't take a minute to find out what a terrific fighter he is. He can punch harder than that big Firpo, and can do it with either hand, and at the same time he can box and defend himself. He's a tough fellow to hit. The two men don't compare. You can say for me that Mr. Firpo hasn't a chance."

Dempsey worked in beautiful style after his three days' rest and did a long boxing drill, running the bag, shadow boxing, and pulling the weights. He wants to go through the same strenuous stunts every day for the next ten days and then ease up a bit, after which he thinks he'll be ready to fight any bull ever raised on pampas grass.

Onwentsia Poloists to Meet for Gold Trophies

Onwentsia Blues and Reds and the Grasmere Farm poloists will play a round robin tournament at Onwentsia tomorrow and Monday for possession of the four gold cups donated by the late Francis S. Peabody. The team getting the highest number of goals for the two days will be declared winner.

In the shot put event there are forty-six entries; 16 pound weight for distance, twenty-five pound weight, twenty-two; 56 pound weight, straight throw, twenty-two.

JACK LEARNS SPANISH SO HE CAN INFORM LUIS WHAT NOT TO DO

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 30. — [Associated Press.] — Jack Dempsey is learning to speak Spanish, so he will be able to surprise Luis Angel Firpo with a few choice remarks when they exchange punches in their world's heavyweight championship battle Sept. 14.

The champion admits he has no chance of mastering the language, but wants to learn just enough of Firpo's native lingo to carry him through.

Dempsey's tutor is Luis F. Sulzon, his chauffeur, who attended the University of Spain and later taught Spanish in Porto Rico. The champion takes lessons in the evening, when the cottage is deserted.

Thus far Dempsey can tell Firpo to duck, be careful, or come on.

DIODENES WINS RICH PURSE AT SARATOGA

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Aug. 30. — Diogenes, owned by Mrs. W. M. Jeffords of Philadelphia, today won the Hopeful stakes, carrying a value of $40,000, from a field of fifteen crack 2 year olds. Braceland of the Ranocosa stable finished second, and Sunspore of the G. A. Cochran stable was third. The time for the six furlongs was 1:13.5.

Diogenes was an outsider in the juvenile classic. Sunspore was one of three horses carrying the Cochran stable, which had ruled heavy favorites. The others were Epic and Span and Sun Flag.

St. James, Big Blame, Mint Brar, Fluvanna, H. T. Waters, Nautical, Check, Pickpocket, Bob's Mary, and Gentian also ran. The winner was ridden by Jockey Ponce.

My Own, the favorite, carrying the colors of Admiral Cary T. Grayson and ridden by Earl Sande, won the historic Saratoga cup, with an added value of $6,000. Hunting of the H. P. Whitney stable, was second, and Prince James third. The race, which had but three starters, was for 2 year olds and upwards at a mile and six furlongs. The time was 2:57.1-5.

John Milligan, Old Time Catcher, Dies

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 30. — John Milligan, star catcher for the Philadelphia Athletics and the St. Louis Browns when they were members of the American association, died here today.

Philadelphia, Pa. Aug. 30. — George W. Wrightman, vice president of the United States Lawn Tennis association, has accepted the offer to referee the national tennis championship at the Germantown Cricket club here beginning Sept. 10.

FIRPO STANDS SHOWER OF PUNCHES ON CHIN

BY HARRY NEWMAN.

Atlantic City, N. J., Aug. 30. — [Special.] — We took a good closeup of Luis Firpo as he stepped through his training trick at Atlantic park this afternoon and what we saw was plenty.

We saw the Argentinian giant shoot some straight hard wallops that seemed to carry destruction on their journey and we also saw Firpo take a shower of right and left hand smacks to the face from his sparring partners until it looked at one time as if Firpo was serving as a sparring partner instead of the challenger who hopes to knock Jack Dempsey for a row of pancakes when they clash in their fifteen round battle at the Polo grounds on Sept. 14.

Carries Deadly Punch.

While Firpo is still open on his mode of attack, he carries that deadly right handed poke. We noticed that Jack Burke, to have a partner take him for a few shots. How that bird flares up when one of his hired men dares to take liberties.

Once this afternoon when Joe McCann, the Newark heavyweight, got in a few sharp clips to Firpo's kisser, the latter tore in like an infuriated beast, lashing out with both hands, swinging in every direction. Once aroused he is a tough egg to swat punches with, but can be swept Dempsey before him as he does his stablemates.

Shows Improved Style.

Surely Firpo carried the deadly sock in either hand, even if he is wide open as he plunges in. And it is the sock which counts for most after all. Any man with the old slap in a heavy-weight scrap must always be considered and reckoned with.

However, Firpo did not look so good in these taking those swipes on the chin, but that old right sin was always poised ready to be shot through with a well aimed left.

We were somewhat amazed at Firpo's improved style when he started his preliminary work before the boxing.

COUNTY RACE MEET ON TODAY

The four day race meet at the Cook county fair at Palatine, Ill., opens today. Dr. W. P. Gortline, president of the fair association and a well known horseman, will act as starter on the opening day. The events to be decided today are a 2:24 trot, 2:18 pace, and a three-quarter mile running race. Radio, the driverless wonder, will go against his record of 2:10.

CHIHUAHUA PEON TAKES 1,700,000 ACRES OF LAND

Governor Tells Tribune
Reasons for Policy.

BY JOHN CORNTN.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
Chihuahua, Mexico, Aug. 30.—The state of Chihuahua has gone as far in the agrarian policy outlined by the constitution of 1917 and subsequent legislation as any other Mexican state. Over 9,000 families have been given farms and thousands more are squatters on land to which they have no claim.

For the past two years the local agrarian commission has been doing a land office business and is still doing it. An average of one town throughout the state is receiving communal lands or "ejidos" each week in the year. The motive power is Gov. Gen. Ignacio E. Enríquez. He continues to believe in the agrarian theories of the revolution after most of his friends have practically abandoned them and the federal government has apparently lost much of its faith in them as a panacea for the evils afflicting the masses.

Eye to Patriotic Result.

Gov. Enríquez told This Tribune that where 90 per cent of all the land is in the hands of large property holders and the masses of the people live in illiteracy and abject poverty, without bettering their condition, the elements of nationality are almost sure to be lacking.

Gov. Enríquez maintains it is the duty of the state to create nationality when nationality is lacking. With this end in view he has stamped with his approval the applications of eighty-two towns and villages throughout the state for communal lands, either by restitution or donation. Of these only thirty-seven, or 46 per cent, have yet been presented to the local agrarian delegation for study and transmission to the national agrarian commission in Mexico City for the final approval of that body and the sanction of the president of the republic.

1,700,000 Acres Occupied.

Of the 440,000 acres distributed to these thirty-seven towns and villages only 27,500, or less than 6 per cent, have received the approval of President Obregón. But as the peasants have been placed in possession of over 1,700,000 acres, the approvals extended by the president to the various land donations in Chihuahua are less than 9 per cent of the total amount of land occupied with the approval of the state government.

Gen. Enríquez has put a valuation on all arable land and he has asserted it would be paid for in full as soon as the state finds itself in a position to do so.

New Republican Club

to Support McCormick

A new Republican club composed of members from the Cook county country districts has been organized to support the candidacy of United States Senator Medill McCormick for reelection. The club obtained a charter from the secretary of state's office at Springfield yesterday. The incorporators are Fred W. Rice, George F. Carlson, and Joseph F. Carlson. The charter was obtained by Attorney A. T. Graham.

TO FACE FIRING SQUAD AT DAWN FOR 2 MURDERS

Salt Lake City, Utah, Aug. 30.—At dawn tomorrow George H. Gardner will face a firing squad at the Utah state prison to pay the death penalty for the murders of Gordon Stuart, a deputy sheriff, and Joseph Irvine, a rancher. It appeared certain tonight when the state supreme court declined to grant a stay of execution.

Apparently unperturbed, Gardner sat in his cell at the county jail still clinging to the hope that he will be saved by last minute intervention. Preparations for the execution were completed today by Sheriff Benjamin H. Harries.

FOREST PRESERVE JOB ROW RECALLS "BIG BILL'S" WAY

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

Ex-Mayor William Hale Thompson was a firm believer in the power of job holders to get votes. Therefore he increased job holders before primaries and elections in which he was especially interested, as was done in the forest preserves last October, when the number of extra employees was boosted to 1,112 the fortnight before election and cut to 17 the month after election.

Mr. Thompson's system can be illustrated by the expenditures for street cleaning, removal of garbage, collection of ashes, and like services of the street bureau for January and February of five selected years. Those figures follow:

	January	February
1917	$237,765	$237,284
1918	234,239	233,696
1919	289,212	446,907
1920	334,374	333,667
1921	447,937	436,236

These portray the February in which Mr. Thompson was unusually interested. It was the middle one—the February of 1919, when the expenditures increased $126,619 over the preceding January.

Only One Other Case.

In no other February—with one exception—was more money spent than in the corresponding January. In the exception, February, 1917, the expense exceeded January's by less than 2 per cent.

This indicates that the weather is just as inclement, the ground is frozen as hard and there is about as much ice and snow in the thoroughfares in February as in January, and consequently it is as impracticable to do street and alley cleaning in February as in January. But in 1919 the city spent 45 per cent more in the second month than in the first month.

The cases are plain. When former Mayor Thompson was first a candidate for mayor in 1915, his principal primary opponent was Chief Justice Harry Olson of the Municipal court. It was a real race. Thompson received 57,333 votes and Olson 54,525.

Jobs to Make Sure.

When Thompson was a candidate for reelection in 1919, his opponent again was Olson.

The cause is plain. When former Olson by a plurality of only 2,504. He was afraid. So he added an extra $126,000 worth of white wings to the street cleaning force. That would be the equivalent of about 1,200 street cleaners, and each one of those should have been good for five to ten votes.

Other employees were added. For extraordinary work at the water pumping stations the city spent $1,254 in January. In February $48,562 was spent. It dropped down in March to $11,556. Still others were employed.

For extraordinary work on the water tunnels and cribs $386 was spent in January, and $16,932 in February. On the ordinary operation of the pumping stations $42,933 was spent in January and $106,549 in February.

Puts Them in Other Places.

This Tribune at the time exposed the increase in the street cleaning payroll. That so frightened the mayor that he did not spend as much for street cleaning in any other month of the year, with one exception, as in February. Instead he switched to other departments in which to place workers for the April election.

In the operation of the water pumping stations $140,594 was spent in March, $205,160 in April, and only $19,203 in May. The board of local improvements increased its ordinary expense from $31,755 in March to $59,757 in April. Of this increase $24,677 was in fees for experts and commissions, some of whom contributed to the mayor's campaign fund.

U. S. RED CROSS TURNS ITS BACK ON GENEVA BODY

PARIS, Aug. 30.—The American Red Cross delegates to the International Red Cross conference, headed by Ernest P. Bicknell, decided definitely today not to attend the meeting in Geneva.

The decision was taken on receipt of news that the international conference had approved the suggestion that a committee be appointed to consider fusion of the International Red Cross and the League of Red Cross societies, thus indicating the determination of the conference to pass upon the question at the present session, despite the objections raised by the American and other delegations.

Given Full Powers.

(Chicago Tribune Foreign News Service.)
GENEVA, Aug. 30.—Judge John Barton Payne, chairman of the American Red Cross, today notified the International Red Cross conference by cable from Washington that he would leave the decision in the controversy between the International and American Red Cross up to the delegates now in Paris.

ANTI-TRUST LAW HITS BUTTERICK AND FIVE OTHERS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 30.—The Butterick company and five other dress pattern concerns affiliated with it through consolidation or joint stock ownership were prohibited today by the federal trade commission from selling their patterns to dealers for resale to the public at stipulated prices.

The commission also ordered discontinued the alleged practice of the six companies requiring their contract dealers to handle only their patterns to the exclusion of those manufactured by other concerns.

The defendant concerns were said by the commission to control approximately 40 per cent of the dress pattern industry. Those named in addition to the Butterick company were the Federal Fashioning company, the Standard Fashioning company, the New Idea Pattern company, the New Idea Pattern company, and the Designer Publishing company, all of New York City.

The Door of Desire
BY ROY VICKERS

Martin Thorne had been engaged to Jacqueline Crave. They quarreled, and Jacqueline married Martin's cousin, Julian, second Viscount Montrose. Julian calls on Martin and begs him to help him escape.

A body is found at the bottom of the elevator shaft in the Montrose home. Martin and Jacqueline know the victim is not Julian Montrose.

Julian discovers that Thorne was also known as Skiddy. Mrs. Skiddy, at one time a servant of the Montroses, does not know her husband and Thorne, are the same. Leslie, the son of the Montroses, tells her uncle is not the father of Mrs. Skiddy's son. Mrs. Thorne's son comes to visit her. Jacqueline calls at Mrs. Skiddy's house and finds that Skiddy is her husband, Julian Montrose, and that it was he who murdered old Skiddy. She helps him to escape.

INSTALLMENT XII.
MARTIN OFFERS A REWARD OF FIVE THOUSAND POUNDS.

"Hold on!" cut in Segrove as Martin's hand found the door handle. "You've completely spoiled my grievance by groveling like that. Don't remove your custom as usual! Sit down and tell me what I can do for you."

As Martin complied he strolled back to his own chair. "Your last piece of consolation, as you put it, inadvertently gave us a pretty important clue," he said.

"I know that," admitted Martin, wryly, and paused for reflection. The pause lasted so long that Segrove grinned.

"I suppose you're trying not to give us another one?" he suggested.

"You won't find it easy. You give us the job of thinking for you, and then we've thought too much. You wouldn't consider the possibility of being perfectly frank with us, would you?"

"From the way you put it, I gather you're definitely working with the police," said Martin.

"I am, still, people have been frank with the police before now."

Martin laughed shortly.

"As you please," said Segrove, indifferently. "Now, let's get to business. What is it exactly that you want me to do?"

"I am going to offer a reward," said Martin. "A reward of five thousand pounds to any person who can give information of real value about the murder."

Segrove crossed his legs carefully, and then uncrossed them.

"I haven't put it like that," said Martin in an equally expressionless manner. "The phrase I've used is 'the murder committed on—whatever the date was—at 6 Berkeley Square.' The money won't be handed over unless the information is of genuine use in finding the murderer."

"Thorne," murmured Segrove.

"The murderer," repeated Martin.

"And where do you want me to come to?" asked Segrove after another pause.

"I want you to sift any information that may be obtained."

"If anything of value is obtained, I shall have to pass it on to Bedford," said Segrove, reminding him.

"I know that," said Martin, rising, "but that doesn't necessarily mean they'll get there before I do. And that's all I want—to get there first."

"Well, I won't remind you of your risk of becoming an accessory after the fact, because you probably know more about that kind of thing than I do. When does the announcement of the reward appear?"

"Tomorrow morning in all the leading papers."

"To this reward being offered at Lady Montrose's suggestion?"

"No," said Martin abruptly.

"With her consent?" pursued Segrove.

"My dear Segrove, does that matter?"

"It only matters," said Segrove carefully, "if the information obtained implicates Lady Montrose. Even a private detective prefers to know, to a certainty, where he is in."

Martin tried to find a retort but had to give it up and left the room without voicing his indignation. The enlightenment he felt to be his due. Segrove looked after him sympathetically.

"Poor devil! What an extraordinarily difficult position he is in!"

Again his reflections were interrupted by the entrance of his clerk.

"A Mr. Jones, sir."

"A Mr. Jones," repeated Segrove absently. "One single Mr. Jones out of the thousands of Mr. Joneses who inhabit the United Kingdom. What does he want?"

"Mr. Shepherd has sent him round, sir, about a tattoo."

"Good! Show him in."

Mr. Jones was shown in immediately. He was a small, fat man of a pallid cast of countenance, and obviously suffering from extreme nervousness.

"I've come here at the request of a Mr. Shepherd," he began.

"Mr. Shepherd is one of my assistants," said Segrove pleasantly. "When I hadly want a chat with a person, I tell Mr. Shepherd about him, and he nearly always finds him for me and sends him along. He's not been long finding you, Mr. Jones, but then, I don't suppose that there are many expert tattooists—tattooists—tattoo experts in the country."

"You're right, there aren't," returned Mr. Jones. "You'll find a crowd of them round every dock, all able to do a heart with an arser through it, or an anchor, or anything of that kind, but when it comes to a really careful piece of work, it don't do to put yourself in the hands of any one but an expert, and as you say there aren't many of us."

"The tattoo I am interested in," said Segrove, "is a snake twisted into the form of an 'H.' I gather from the fact that Mr. Shepherd has sent you to me that you have tattooed that particular design on to the arm of a client at his request."

Mr. Jones nodded.

"At his particular request, you might say, sir, for it isn't one of my usual designs. In fact, I couldn't have done it if he hadn't brought the gentleman I was to copy it from."

"It was copied from another tattoo, then?" asked Segrove. "Are you quite sure of that, Mr. Jones?"

"O yes, sir! I'm not likely to make a mistake. It doesn't often happen that two gentlemen are set on having a tattoo of exactly the same design in exactly the same part of the arm, especially when an initial is worked into the picture. You'll find young couples will have a heart each, or each other's initials, or a cupid—though it's dying out—but two gentlemen is different."

"Well?"

"What struck me was that the gentleman that had it done was most particular that it should be exactly like the other gentleman's, and the other gentleman didn't seem to take any interest in the proceedings, and kept on saying he didn't see there was any call for it to be copied at all. I remember most clearly him saying to the younger gentleman—'But what'd you want me to do?' 'H' for? Why don't you have some other letter?' he says. 'An 'H' doesn't mean anything to you.'"

"And was there any answer to that?"

"Not exactly, sir. The younger gentleman laughed and said something about it all being in the family. But I shouldn't like to swear to that."

Here again Mr. Jones' memory failed him somewhat. Both the gentlemen were dark and on the thin side and not tall; but very different to look at, if Mr. Segrove understood him. The gentleman who was older and redder in the face was certainly a perfect gentleman. But the other was a gentleman. Mr. Jones floundered and mopped his brow.

"Well, I have your name and address," said Segrove, "and if I should ask you to repeat your statement, I take it you would do so?"

"At any time, sir, though I must say if I had to do so I should like to be told the reason for asking me. I haven't asked any questions up to now."

"A very sound policy," approved Segrove, ignoring the hint. "I expect Mr. Shepherd made it clear to you that you would be compensated for your loss of time in coming to see me. He took out his pocket case. 'I think you will find this covers your trouble in the matter. There is nothing else I wish to ask you. Good morning.'"

Mr. Jones withdrew, and Segrove turned to the telephone and rang up Detective Inspector Bedford of New Scotland Yard.

"Is that you, Bedford? Can you tell me Mrs. Skiddy's Christian name?"

"Mrs. Skiddy's Christian name," repeated Bedford's voice. "Hold on—I respect it's in Bisset's report. Yes, here we are—Mrs. Hilda Skiddy."

"Many thanks," said Segrove blithely. "Hilda, 'H' for Hilda! And there is Mrs. Hilda Skiddy at the present moment, Bedford, do you know?"

"Still in Devonshire, and likely to be there for a long time. She's been seriously ill. I had it from Lord Montrose this morning in the Berkeley Square house that it was brain fever."

Guard Child's Home Rights,
Leader's Plea

"Avert Domestic Wrecks, Keep Folks United."

BY LOUISE JAMES BARGELT.
"A child has a right to his own folks. Let's keep the parents together for him if it's humanly possible. Make the home a decent place to live in rather than break it up."

This, according to C. B. Williams, superintendent of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid society, who spoke yesterday before the Kiwanis club of Chicago at Hotel Sherman, will work for the greatest good of the thousands of neglected children who require the services of the society each year in Illinois.

Try 8-Hour Shower
to "Cure" Old Age,
Naturopath Urges

Three hundred delegates and visitors to the twenty-seventh annual convention of the Naturopathic association, which opened a two day session at the Hotel Sherman yesterday, last night slipped at the fountain Ponce de Leon sought in vain—they drank in every word as Dr. Benedict Lust of New York, founder and president of the association, told them of a new water cure for old age that is "as entrancing as an opium dream."

Wherefore the plumbing business should be brisk today, because Dr. Lust instructed his audience—including many an ambitious old man who cupped a hand to an eager ear—in the important details of transforming the old bathroom into a rejuvenation emporium.

And did the hopeful ones weaken when the doctor advised them they must, to wash away their years, remain under a shower with water at temperature ranging from 98 to 106 for eight hours without food? Not a weak one in the house!

Art Institute Instructor
Is Decorated by Finland

Elmer A. Forsberg, an instructor in the school of the Art Institute of Chicago since 1908, has been decorated with the cross of the first class, Order of the White Rose of Finland, making him a knight of this order, it was learned yesterday. He has just received the diploma and gold and enamel decoration. It is the first decoration of its kind awarded in Chicago. During the war Mr. Forsberg took an active part in the work among the Finnish people in America.

3 Theaters
in New War
on Scalpers

Selwyn, Apollo, Adelphi
Prepare for Battle.

BY SHEPPARD BUTLER.
The managements of the Selwyn, Apollo, and Adelphi theaters declared war on the ticket scalpers yesterday, taking a mighty oath that, for the attractions next to be shown in these playhouses, seats shall be sold at the box offices and at the box offices only. Similar wars have been declared before, but there is evidence that, in this instance, the crusaders mean business.

The decision affects "The Fool," opening tonight at the Selwyn; "The Dancing Honeymoon," coming Sunday night to the Apollo, and "Spring Cleaning," the Frederick Lonsdale comedy hitlerio known as "By the Grace of God," which will dedicate the new Adelphi on Sept. 3. These plays and theaters are under the direction of the Selwyns and A. H. Woods, who have joined forces for the new campaign against the agents and brokers.

"We propose to see if the public really wants to buy its tickets at the theater alone," said Walter Duggan, general representative of the Selwyns in Chicago. "A great deal has been said about scalping, and some half-hearted attempts have been made to stop it, but it goes on, mostly, about as usual. This is an experiment and we are going through with it, and we are going to be on the square."

Arch Selwyn, who arrived in the morning to discuss the scalping matter and attend the opening of "The Fool," made known his intention of offering $100 for proof that tickets for any of the plays involved have found their way into the scalpers' hands with the consent or through the connivance of the theater managements.

Treat Erring Girls
Like Shell Shocked,
Woman Pastors Told

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.
The International Association of Women Preachers, which last evening closed its sessions at the Training school for Missions, 4949 Indiana avenue, during the day received advice on how to deal with outcast girls from a social worker, Mrs. Elsie Dummer.

"Do not shun the girl who has gone wrong, but care for and train her," said Mrs. Dummer. "Girls can be recovered, just as shell-shocked soldiers recovered, with care, right associations, and proper treatment. Emotional repression is the secret of most of the trouble."

She advocated the establishment of schools where each girl may be studied psychologically.

Many young women, on graduating from college, would enter the ministry if the door was open to them, the Rev. Stella Irving of Riverside, Cal., declared at the evening session.

The Rev. M. Madeline Southard of Winfield, Kan., was reflected as president of the association. The other officers are: The Rev. Lulu Hunter, Chicago, vice president; the Rev. Marie Burr Wilcox, Nelson, Neb., secretary; the Rev. Carolyn Hosford, Springfield, Mass., recording secretary; the Rev. Ella Krott, Indianapolis, treasurer, and the Rev. Lida Herrick, Lincoln, Neb., auditor.

Pitou to Present
Elsa Ryan in Play

New York, Aug. 30.—[Special.]—Augustus Pitou will soon present Elsa Ryan in a new play by John T. McIntyre, tentatively called "Arriet Makes a Call." Last season Miss Ryan appeared in Booth Tarkington's play, "The Intimate Strangers."

William Faversham and Emily Stevens will be seen together, under direction of the Shuberts, in "Captain Brigue," written by Rudold Besler and May Edington and acted in London as "The Prude's Fall." The play will open in Montreal on Sept. 10.

The Shuberts will send out four "Blossom Time" companies in a special train of fifteen cars from the Pennsylvania terminal tomorrow.

"Polly Preferred," after a few more weeks at the Little theater, will begin a Chicago run at the La Salle theater.

Barbers of Three States to Have Outing Sunday

Barbers of northern Indiana, southern Michigan, and northern Illinois will have an all day outing at Hudson Lake, Ind., on Sunday. The picnic is the first of its kind in this territory, and it is expected the attendance will reach 1,000. James C. Shanney, general president of the Journeymen Barbers International Union of America, will give the address.

Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "The Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune.

The Question.
Which of The Tribune's departments do you think you would like to be editor of?

Where Asked.
Michigan avenue, at Monroe street.

The Answer.
M. D. Stevers, 400 Deming place, advertising—Foreign news.

The foreign news is probably the most complex department. Being in touch with affairs at their biggest and affairs of the greatest importance to the world, one would have the greatest scope for the exercise of effort and initiative.

Mrs. James Michelstetter, Alexandria hotel, housewife—No thinking about it; I'd just like to be editor of the movie department. One could meet all the movie people of note, and you could see everything that came along in the movies.

I always read Mae Tine's articles. She is just wonderful.

W. M. Kirchhoff, Franklin Park, bank clerk—Well, I tried to get into their advertising department. The advertising game is coming into itself more and more every day. In a department like that one could gain his experience that would enable one to start in business for one's self.

Miss Ida Cohen, 4615 North Monticello avenue, student—The editorial department. I'd like to write editorials, to take a question of the day and argue it impartially and show the people just what is right. Some people can't read the whole paper, but they can read the editorials and get a view.

Robert S. Marvin, 600 North Dearborn street, salesman—The sporting department. I am interested in good, clean sports in every branch. I'd like to help bring about clean horse racing and boxing in this city. I believe THE TRIBUNE gives the best sporting news of them all—have thought so for forty years.

STORY 'Up the Ladder'

HIGHWAY BONDS MOVE, BUT BONUS LIFELESS; WHY?

BY SCRUTATOR.

Disregarding the present sluggishness of the bond market, which it is said is the reason why Illinois cannot sell 4 1/2 per cent bonus bonds at par, and must raise the ante on future issues of highway bonds also, the thing that sticks in the ordinary citizen's craw is the fact that the highway bonds have been moving at better prices than the bonus bonds, although they are the same kind of goods. They are issued by the same authority, secured by the same assets and possess the same privileges and exemptions. Yet citizens, who have bought either or both in the past month to stick in the little old tin box, know that they are selling on a declining market. Why the preference for the highway issues?

Perhaps to ask the question is to betray one's ignorance. Certainly there is no lack of reasons. There are too many reasons, that's the trouble. After trailing this thing through the financial jungle the writer begins to think that it is not the only one in finance, but, on the other hand, the gentleman with the multiplicity of reasons must know the game; because all it appears to be making a good living out of it. They are all confident of their opinion, and it is quite evident, they are all telling the truth, as they see it.

But outside of the financial group the multiplicity of reasons can have but one effect: if the matter ever becomes the subject of widespread popular discussion, it is bound to do, in view of a generation of misapprehension and the recent public hostility of the financial press to the principle of adjusted compensation, the popular mind will leap to the conclusion that the "big interests," or, to be more specific, the lawyers, are in league to make a bad market for bonus bonds, or at any rate to force a high rate of interest both to make money and to discourage the whole bonus idea.

This view can even be heard among bond men. Here and there one will say that the feeling against the bonus not only exists, but has its effect on the market today. They attribute the reluctance of investors to go in for these bonds to such hostility. Of course, they admit at once that this hostility becomes merely subconscious the moment the bonds pass from the state to the bond seller. The banks and bond houses are not trying to lose money by discouraging sales. But sales and prices suffer because of the hangover from the anti-bonus fight, they say.

Others, admitting the highway-bonus discrepancy, say that they have heard nothing whatever of any such hostility to the bonus bonds. As to the recent bid, they can and do point to the present state of the market and the prices now asked for other securities, which range lower than those for which bonus and highway bonds have been sold this month. The bonus and highway bonds already sold, of course, came out in a "better" market. Farm claims talk, plus the heavy issue of new federal tax stamps rural credit securities, may have put the whole market down, or there are any number of other reasons, going all the way to a general feeling that municipalities have been overdone.

The most usual explanation of the prices of bonus bonds, however, is this: "Investors are used to school and highway bonds and all that sort of thing. This bonus bond is a new thing, like a new soft drink, a new automobile. They like to see it, but they don't want to buy it until it is advertised, sold intensively." There has been no such selling campaign. Wouldn't the banks have made a hit if they had put on a campaign to educate the public to the desirability of these securities? The opportunity probably is still here. Or the state probably could sell these bonds over the counter for 4 1/2 per cent. Every man says the present market is bad, it would be hard to find a better buy than an Illinois 4 1/2.

The buying public is ripe for a new type of security. The slackness of the market has had the effect of dimming the attraction of the old favorites. School bonds have always had a selling advantage, say bond men, because they are supposed to be popular in communities of issue. But the writer encountered yesterday an old bond house with a choice stock of very attractive school bonds, priced to yield 4 1/2, issued by a downstate community of low debt, much wealth, and enviable credit. They have been on the shelves until they are dusty.

Creditors of Bankrupt
Brokers to Get Money
New York, Aug. 30.—The creditors' committee of Zimman & Forsyth, New York stock exchange brokers, has called recently, with liabilities of about $2,500,000, today submitted a plan to creditors which would provide for prompt payment out of quick assets of about 40 per cent of the total claims. The remaining assets of the firm would be turned over to a corporation for future liquidation. If the plan is approved by the creditors it will be made effective at once. Quick assets in the hands of the receiver have a value of about $2,500,000, and include cash, securities, domestic credits, two seats on the New York Stock Exchange, foreign exchange, bullion, and goods. Among the slow assets are claims against the alien property custodian aggregating $1,500,000.

Merger Is Effectuated by Two Illinois Power Co.'s
Springfield, Ill., Aug. 30.—A consolidation of the Central Illinois Public Service company and the Middle West Power company, which will place in control of the former company the large power station under construction at Grand Tower, Ill., was effectuated at a meeting of stockholders here today. The property acquired also includes a double circuit of 66,000 volt transmission line connecting the Grand Tower station with a distribution line at West Frankfort. The Central Illinois Public Service company, its officials announced, now render service to 289 communities in central and southern Illinois.

ARMOUR & CO. EARNINGS GROW AT A RAPID PACE

BY O. A. MATHER.

Rehabilitation of Armour & Co., the largest of the Chicago packing companies, and also of the personal fortune of J. Ogden Armour, is proceeding faster than the most optimistic of bankers dared to hope when the company was extricated from its financial difficulties last winter.

The merger of Armour & Co. and Morris & Co. took place last spring. In July a semi-annual report was issued showing that Armour & Co. had earned $1,483,374 beyond fixed charges and preferred stock dividends. This amount is applicable to the $100,000,000 common stock of Armour & Co. of Illinois, practically all of which is owned by Mr. Ogden Armour and his family.

Armour's share of the earnings would be between $5,000,000 and $6,000,000. Bank liquidation satisfactory.

Liquidation of the Fort Dearborn banks, which were taken over on Jan. 1, 1922, by the Continental and Commercial banks, is proceeding satisfactorily. It is estimated that the clearing houses banks subscribed a guaranty fund of $2,000,000 to effect the transfer and thus prevent the worst financial crash in Chicago's history, the liabilities of the Fort Dearborn institutions totaling around $25,000,000.

The Continental Trust and Savings bank yesterday made a repayment of $100,000 of the clearing house guaranty fund. An earlier payment of $500,000 was made in May. The Continental and Commercial National bank will make a repayment of $1,000,000 by Dec. 31. This will leave only $700,000 to be paid back to the Chicago banks which raised the fund, and such repayment will probably be made early next year. After the final payment the proceeds of further liquidation will go to the Fort Dearborn stockholders in liquidating dividends.

Legal fight on "L" not expected. Reports that a legal fight against reorganization of the Chicago clearing houses would be undertaken by a small group of stockholders drew a sharp rebuff yesterday from R. Floyd Clinch, member of the noteholders' protective committee which worked out the reorganization plan.

The stockholders' list shows only three of these men as being stockholders. Mr. Clinch said: "Two of them acquired their stock within the last three months and at a time when it was generally known the reorganization was under way and also that the companies' finances were in bad shape and that the preferred stock had little or no value. It would seem to me as if they were not trying to block a bona fide reorganization which is in the interest of the properties and the public alike."

Autumn expansion begins. The beginning of autumn expansion in trade is reflected in the weekly report of the Chicago Clearing House Association, dated statement of the twelve reserve banks shows loans increased $4,922,000, while bills increased $3,125,000. Total bills increased $1,797,000, circulation $2,404,000. Note circulation was about steady. The ratio of reserves to liabilities was 77.5, compared with 77.3 per cent in the preceding week.

The New York bank shows loans increased $12,922,000, while bills bought $2,465,000. Total bills increased $10,457,000 and earning assets $10,021,000. Gold and total reserves dropped $13,855,000 and $14,880,000 respectively. Deposits rose $1,774,000, due entirely to increase in bank reserve credits increasing $14,720,000. Note circulation fell $16,625,000. The ratio of reserves to liabilities fell to 84.7 from 85.3 per cent in the preceding week.

Chicago Loans Decline. The Chicago bank shows loans declined $1,610,000, while bills bought $1,011,000. Total bills declined $2,604,000 and earning assets $1,849,000. Gold and total reserves increased $13,855,000 and $13,235,000 respectively. Deposits increased $1,774,000, with bank reserve credits increasing $14,720,000. Note circulation fell $16,625,000. The ratio of reserves to liabilities fell to 84.7 from 85.3 per cent in the preceding week.

The New York Times

New York, Aug. 30.—[Special.]—It would have been natural in any case for the stock market to have paused in its advance at the end of the week with the double holiday approaching. The irregularity in today's later market was made more unavoidable by the action of one stock on which professional speculation has for several days converged.

Chemical stock, which closed last week at 106, was bid up to 107 on Wednesday and to 108 on Thursday. It was then that a conspicuous advance was made, the stock rising to 109.50. Although active stock, the effect of such performance on the general market was hardly noticeable. Nevertheless, the market was the most active since July 2.

The market's movement was on the whole notable for the absence of outright reaction, in the face not only of these special influences, but of the Italian ultimatum to Greece, which in certain circles had caused apprehension. Today it did not seem to be taken with great seriousness.

Even at London and Paris the stock market was distinctly firm, cables to the west coast reflecting hopeful news and emphasizing the further recovery of high grade investment securities abroad. That Italian and Greek exchange should decline was not unexpected, but the fall was not violent, and the price of sterling and the franc was practically unshaken.

MARK DROPS REVERS

With the German mark the decline in price continued during a good part of the day, the rate at one time reaching 12.50 marks to the dollar, as against 12.00 marks to the dollar at the close of the week ago. The market price recovered later and closed at Wednesday's figure.

The bond market was active again today and the majority of the higher grade issues held their value. The latter were, however, somewhat weaker. The latter were active recently and a number of speculative gains were recorded. The advance of the day was very irregular yesterday, held steady today.

Chicago and Alton issues were quiet. In the way of price movements, practically unchanged. Foreign issues were also steady.
